WILLIAM MILNE, C.A., Aberdeen.
By Saint Andrew, here's a common fellow, a stipendiary, with four pounds a year and a livery cloak, thinks himself too good to serve Ritt Master Dugald Dalgetty of Drumthwacket, who has studied humanity at the Marischal College of Aberdeen, and served half the princes of Europe.—Legend of Montrose.

William's Father, a man always venerable to me, had founded Marischal College, Aberdeen,—where for a few, in these stern granite Countries, the Diviner Pursuits are still possible (thank God and this Keith) on frugal oatmeal.—Carlyle's Friedrich.

Why have we not a history of Marischal College and University, or, at least, an Athenae et Fasti of that venerable institution? . . . The roll of the notabilities of Marischal College might seem not an insignificant one. At all events, it is the bounden duty of any Anthony Wood that may be living now in Aberdeen to do his best to draw it up. . . For, alas! the history may now be rounded off and complete. There is still a fine granite building called Marischal College, in which a portion of the work of the United University is carried on; but the real antique establishment—Dugald Dalgetty's Marischal College and mine—is no longer in rerum natura.—Professor Masson in Whiston's Magazine, February, 1854.
The first volume of the Fasti Academiae Marischallanae dealt with the Endowments of the College. It was the intention of the editor to include in the second volume not merely the Roll of Officers, Graduates and Alumni, but such other University records as seemed worthy of print. The unexpectedly great amount of space occupied by the lists of names—the Fasti proper—has, however, made it necessary to postpone selections from Faculty Minutes, from Visitation Reports, from Acts of Parliament and of Privy Council, from the Register of the Aberdeen Town Council, and from other muniments illustrating the history of the University.

The editor desires, meanwhile, to register the sources, manuscript and printed, from which he has compiled the lists printed in the volume now issued; and to chronicle the friends whose obliging assistance has enabled him to identify so many of the persons that these lists include.

The youngest of the Scottish Universities, Marischal College is singular in possessing no continuous record of teachers or of students. Their names have had to be brought together from printed Theses, from occasional Matriculation rolls, from Chamber Maills accounts, from Diploma vouchers, from Presentations to bursaries by Town Council and Incorporated Trades, from Grammar School exit lists, and from other sources detailed at length below. Yet this lack of continuity is, to some extent at least, compensated for by the amount of information that can be obtained regarding the parentage of the alumni—for bursars from 1619, for all students from 1773—information such as prior to 1860 is not known to have been recorded in the archives of the Universities of St. Andrews, Glasgow, King’s College, and Edinburgh.

¹ On the fly-leaf of this volume appears the following note in the handwriting of the Rev. Peter Colin Campbell, Principal of the University of Aberdeen:

> "When in Edinburgh attending the General Assembly in May, 1870, I was informed by the Lord Clerk Register, the Rt. Honble. Sir William Gibson-Craig, Bart., that this volume had been found in the Register Office. I requested that it might be given up to me for the University, and, at Sir W. G. C.'s suggestion, embodied that request in a letter to him. This letter he forwarded to H.M. Government, and, in accordance with the instructions sent to him, he placed the volume in my hands on behalf of the University. Neither Sir W. G. C., nor any of the officials of the Register Office, succeeded in ascertaining when and how the volume had been brought to Edinburgh. The conjecture that it had been taken possession of by the Government in connection with the political troubles of 1715, in which the Earl Marischal and the officials of the College were implicated, is obviated by the fact that the volume contains entries as late as 1721. The most probable conjecture, we concluded, was that it had been forwarded to Edinburgh in connection with some legal process in the last century, and had not been reclaimed.

In not a few instances the editor has been obliged to call in question the identifications of the Fasti Rec. Scot. It must be borne in mind that, when compiling his monumental work, Dr. Scott had access neither to Album I. (see footnote on p. viii.) nor to any of the records used by the present editor to fill up the gap from 1682-83 to 1699-1700, nor to the Town Council Register, where alone, from 1619 to 1773, are entered the names of students' fathers. The earlier graduation lists of St. Andrews (not yet printed), of Glasgow (printed in part in the Monumenta), of King's College (printed in part in the Fasti Aberd.), and of Edinburgh (printed in 1858 and 1867), have no record of parentage. These appear to have been examined by Dr. Scott, as also probably Albums II.-IV. of Marischal College, and his method seems to have been to identify A. B., ordained minister of the parish of C, in say 1650 with the like named graduate of St. Andrews, Glasgow, King's Coll, or Edinburgh nearest in date to 1650: allowance being made, in doubtful cases, for the proximity of C. to these four Universities respectively. It is easy to see how some of these identifications might be upset by the discovery of the Marischal registers, with in many cases the parentage of the students.

The manuscript Collections of Professor William Knight, partly in the University Library, and partly in the hands of his surviving daughter,¹ have proved of immense service. Of the older College archives Knight had a minute knowledge, and from 1810, when he first became associated with the teaching staff of the University, until his death in 1844, he lost no opportunity of recording every incident bearing upon College history. A considerable portion of his Collections had been written out by him, for use, it would appear, by the original Spalding Club.

Principal Sir William D. Geddes has furnished many valuable identifications and suggestions.

The Rev. Stephen Ree, minister of Boharm, has been able to supply numerous details regarding the schoolmasters of the district served by the Universities of Aberdeen, a subject of which he has made a special study.

The intimate acquaintance with Aberdeenshire genealogy possessed by Surgeon-Colonel William Johnston of Newton Dee has contributed much to the accurate identification of students at the College during the last hundred years of its existence.

To Mr. James F. Kellas Johnstone, London, the editor is under obligations which he cannot adequately express. Mr. Johnstone's extensive knowledge of the men and books of Northern Scotland, especially during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, has been freely drawn upon; and he has grudged neither time nor trouble in examining records and verifying references that were inconvenient of access to the editor. It may be safely said that there is hardly a page of this volume but owes some of its interest to Mr. Johnstone's diligence. The unusually complete Index, which will be issued to members in a separate form, is due entirely to him.

These four members of the New Spalding Club have also laid the editor under a debt of gratitude by reading all the proof sheets of this volume, as they issued from the press.

The editor has further to express his indebtedness to Mr. A. M. Munro, Town House, Aberdeen, and Mr. R. S. Rait, New College, Oxford, for frequent assistance; to several old Marischal College alumni and others, for the use of Class Records and for information regarding students; to the possessors of portraits, who have permitted their reproduction in this volume; and to Mr. Joseph Ogilvie, L.L.D., and the late Mr. Alexander Cruickshank, L.L.D., who defrayed the cost of the photogravures of Dr. James Melvin and Professor John Cruickshank.

ABERDEEN
Cum Patriam et Proavos raris virtutibus ornes, Nonne ergo debet Scotia multa tibi?
Ecclesiae, Turres, Palatia splendida abunde
   Ingenio jam stant aedificata tuo.
Est Maarshalla Domus Boreae Lux maxima, pura Semper Romani a Dogmate Pontificis.
Rex et regna tibi debet quoque Danica quod tu Curaris Thalamis consociare suis.
Sic merito Rex, Religio, Respublica, Musae
   Lugent in Tumulo nunc Maarshalle tuo.
Struxit Aberdoniae Solymam; fundavit Athenas, Phoebus ubi cantat et sacra turba viget.

OFFICERS OF MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY.

CHANCELLORS.1

1593. George Keith, fifth Earl Marischal, Baron Keith and Altrie.

1623. William Keith, sixth Earl Marischal.
   Married, Mary, dau. of John, seventh Earl of Mar, with issue, William, seventh Earl; George, eighth Earl; Robert, d. unm.; John, first Earl of Kintore; Mary (m. John, Lord Kinpont), Jean (m. Alexander, Lord Pitsligo), and Anne. Died 28th October, 1635. Portrait by Jamesone in possession of Major the Hon. Robert Baillie-Hamilton, reproduced in Vol. I. (Dict.

1 The duties of the Chancellor are set forth in the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., p. 39), but nothing is said as to the mode of election. In one passage (p. 44) it is implied that he may be "minister verbi," but the Earls Marischal were regarded as Chancellors till their forfeiture in 1716. Their usual title, however, was "patron," the college being called the "Earl Marischal's College." They issued presentations to the Principalship and the Regencies: see Vol. I., p. 69.
THE EARLS MARISCHAL.

Sir Edward Keith, great marischal of Scotland, d. circa 1350.

Sir William, created I. Earl Marischal, circa 1458.

Robert, William, II.

William, IV. Robert.

George, V., founder of Marischal College.

This very scarce volume contains three epigrams by Arthur Johnston, which have eluded the notice of the editor of Musa Latina Abred. They run as follows:

IN OBITUM ILLUSTRISSIMI WILHELMII KETII COMITIS MARESCHALLIANI.

Tot modo terrarum dominas, nunc Ketiius Olympum
Possidet et superi jugera vasta soli.
Marmoreas fugiens et dignas regibus areas,
Aurea nunc coeli, cum love, tecta colit.
Et quos audherat saeculis egisse triumphos
His tribus, ingentes hic prope cernit avos.
Quaecumque chelaeis stipatum vidimus, astra
Nunc super, aligero cingit ille choro.
Et satus ambrosia est et vivit nectare Divum.
Cui latrices tellus ante dapuesque dedit.
Si bona praeteritis confess praesentia, Ketius.
Dum loret in terris, pauper inopsque fuit.
Si tamem ingenii doles, animque potentis.
Aurea pensentur munera, dives crat.

ALIUD.
Ipse tua radians et avita luce coruscus,
Gentes Hyperboreae gloria, Ketiu, jacet.
Illustri tibi vita fuit, non secula vita est.
Illa tuis meritis, conjigis ista nite.
Te Dea complexa est morientem mollibus almis.
Povit et ambrosioc frigida colla situ:
Ore legens animam, labris intulit amanuam,
Fixit et Idalis oscula plena rosis.
Et sibi sideros lachrymas subuenit ocellos.
Et clausit nivea lumina functa manu.
Si possent gelido Superi succumbebant letho.
Sic ego crediderim Numina velle morti.

```
ALIUD.
Ketii soli coelique deces, non minus uxor
Virtutis specimen, te moriente, dedit.
Luminibus lachrymas libavit et oscula labris.
Dextraque palpebram clausit utranque manus.
Luminibus lactum, labris testatur amorum.
Dextra manus fortim monstrat et esse piam.

1635. William Keith, seventh Earl Marischal.

Married, 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of George, third Earl of Winton, with issue, William (d. in inf.), Mary, (m. Sir James Hope of Hopetoun), Elizabeth (m. Robert, second Viscount Arbuthnott), Jean (m. George, third Baron Banff), Isabel (m. Sir Edward Turner, bart.): 2nd, Anne, dau. of Robert, eighth Earl of Morton. Died 1661. (Diet. Nat. Biog. G. E. C. The Graduation Theses of 1626 are dedicated "Comiti de Keth, optimae spei adolescenti"; those of 1634, "illustr. Com. Maresch. filio natu maximo, unicus nostrarum musarum deliciis": those of 1658, "Comiti Marischallo, musarum faltori propensissimo". He was a bajan in 1631, infra.)

1661. George Keith, eighth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of George, second Earl of Kinnoul, with issue, William, ninth Earl. Died 1694. (Dedication to Theses of 1669 and 1673. G. E. C.)

1694. William Keith, ninth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of James, fourth Earl of Perth, with issue, George, tenth Earl; James, Marshal Keith, Mary (m. John, sixth Earl of Wigton); Anne (m. Alexander, sixth Earl of Galloway). Died 27th May, 1712. (G. E. C. Bajan in 1676, infra. Founded in 1701 the professorship of Medicine: see Vol. I., p. 381.)

1712. George Keith, tenth and last Earl Marischal.

Attainted 1715-16; died (unmarried) at Potsdam, 28th May, 1778. Two portraits in possession of University. (Diet. Nat. Biog. Jacobite Attempt of 1719, Edin., 1895. The Theses of 1708 are dedicated "domino de Keith, celsissimi ac magnanimi herois D. Gulielmi Comitis Marischalli filio primogenito"); those of 1714, "potentissimo heroi comiti Marischallo". The last of the Earls graduated M.A. of his ancestral college in 1712, his younger brother, James, afterwards Marshal Keith, taking the same degree three years later: infra. As to the present representatives of the Earls Marischal, compare the genealogical trees on pp. 4, 87, with the articles, "The heirs of the Keiths," in Scottish Notes and Queries for May, 1894, and September, 1896, where many authorities are quoted; and with G. E. C.'s Complete Peerage.)

On the attainder of the Earls Marischal, their rights of College patronage passed to the Crown, but the Commissions of Visitation in 1716 and 1717 apparently made no provision for the appointment of a Chancellor. In 1727 we find the College petitioning King George II. to nominate as Chancellor his Majesty's second son, William, aged six, who had been created Duke of Cumberland a month before the date of the Petition.

1 On 6th January, 1643, George, second Marquis of Huntly, was elected Chancellor of King Charles' University (Vol. I., p. 255); but the Marischal College members absented themselves from the meeting, and refused to recognise the election. (Off. and Grad. of King's Coll., p. 4.)
"Unto the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

The most humble Petition and Address of the Rector, Principal, Professors and Masters of His Majestie's Marischall University of Aberdeen.

May it please Your Majestic.

"We, Your Majestie's most dutifull and loyal subjects, having the great honour above all other Universitie in the Nation to be immediately under your Royal Patronage, humbly beg leave to represent that this Your Majes­ tie's University is at great loss by the want of a Chancelour. Wherefor, if it be aggreable to Your Majestie's Royal Pleasure, we earnestly and unani mously intreat that Your Majestic our Royal Patron would be graciously plcas'd to nominate and constitute His Royal Highness, WII.I.IAM, DIKI; CUMBERLAND, Chancelour of this Your University; which will not only signaly honour, but greatly tend to the flourishing thereof. And in evidence of our heartie concurrence, so far as we are interested, we have presumed to trans mitt a most unanimous commission unto His Royal Highness.

"May God, who has in great mercy to these Kingdoms given Your Majestic peaceable possession of the throne of Your Royal Ancestors, greatly prosper and long preserve Your Majestic with your Royal Consort our Gracious Queen, and all the Royal Branches of Your August Family; by which, under God, the great happyness of these Kingdoms can only be secuard and transmitted to posterity.

"Given at Your Majestie's College Marischal of Aberdeen, the twenty eighth day of August, in the first year of Your Majestie's Reign."

"Commission to his highness, William, Duke of Cumberland.

"We, the Rector, Principal, Professors, and Masters of the Marischal University of Aberdeen, taking into our consideration the great loss this University is at by the want of a Chancelour, and how much it will tend to the honour and flourishing of the same, that some honorable and proper person were elected into the said office, we all did and hereby doe unanimously nominate and elect His Royal Highness the High and Mighty Prince, William, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, Chancelour of this University, which office we most humbly and earnestly intreat His Royal Highness may accept of. And by the tenor of these presents we declare that His Royal Highness shall from henceforth have and enjoy all powers, jurisdiction, and honours which any Chancelour of this University by the Foundation Charter had or might in times past have enjoy'd and exercis'd. Promising all subjection and obedience unto His Royal Highness due on our part. In Witness whereof these present letters having the strength of a publick instrument are inscrib'd by us at his Majestie's Marischall College of Aberdeen, this twenty-ninth day of August, one thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven years, and of His Majestie's reign the first year. And for further confirmation we have hereunto appended the great seal of this University.

"Matthew Mackaire, Med. Professor.

-Dav. Verner, P.P.

-Daniel Gordon, P.P.

-Wm. Duff, P.P."
The result of this petition is unknown. The Duke became in 1746 Chancellor of St. Andrews. Kennedy (Annals of Aberdeen, Vol. II., p. 118) gives the Duke of Cumberland as elected Chancellor in 1747, but Kennedy's dates are notoriously inaccurate. See list of Regents, p. 31.

17 Archibald Campbell, Earl of Hay (third Duke of Argyll).

The date of election is not recorded. The Duke, an alumnus of the universities of Glasgow and Utrecht, was created Earl of Hay in 1706, and succeeded his brother, John, in the dukedom in 1743. In 1716 he was chosen Chancellor of King's College, but "upon weighty motives" did not accept (Off. and Grad., p. 3). Kennedy gives John, Duke of Argyll, as Chancellor in 1754, but his names are only less inaccurate than his dates. Died 15th April, 1761. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1761. John Stuart, third Earl of Bute.

Elected, 25th April, by the Principal and Masters, "taking into consideration that the office of Chancellor of this University is vacant by the death of his Grace the Duke of Argyle". (Minute in new Rectorial Book.) He accepts, 10th August: Latin diploma entered in Minute. ("Writing diploma, £5 5s.; silver seal box, £1 14s.; vellum, 10s. 6d." Accounts.) Benefactor to the Library (Vol. I., p. 454) and to the Observatory (Vol. I., p. 449). A promise to give Natural History specimens to the Museum is mentioned in the Aberdeen Journal of 6th Dec., 1784. Portrait in possession of University: copy after Ramsay by William Mossman in 1763. (£16 16s., with £10 10s. for frame. Accounts.) Died 10th March, 1792. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1793. David Murray, second Earl of Mansfield.

1796. William Eden, first Baron Auckland.

M.A., Oxon., 1768. Elected 7th November. (Rect. Book: Diploma, £1 1s.) "Lord Auckland, an English nobleman, who had never even visited Scotland, and was not educated there, was chosen Chancellor solely at the instigation of the Principal, Dr. Brown, whose patron he was, and who had got acquainted with him when holding his Utrecht situation, at which time Auckland was ambassador to the States. The proper Chancellor to have been chosen in 1796 was the Marquis of Huntly, as Professor Copland proposed, and never voted for Lord Auckland. In going after Court patronage, the College fell into a mistake. All the correspondence passed between the Chancellor and Dr. Brown, in letters often not seen by the Faculty. Hence the necessity of the following order: '1811, May 31. Principal Brown to read to the Faculty all letters which he writes in their name, and to lodge copies in the letter book.'—Min." (Knight.) Died 28th May, 1814. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

Record in Faculty Minute Book, 30th June; installed 2nd Sept. On the union of King's and Marischal Colleges became joint Chancellor with fourth Earl of Aberdeen of the University of Aberdeen, 15th Sept., 1869; died 21st October, 1890. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)
RECTORS AND DEANS OF FACULTY.¹

1598. Peter Blackburn, the elder, minister of Aberdeen, Dean of Faculty.

Signs feu charter of date 5th Sept., 1598 (Vol. I., p. 76).

1619. Patrick Dun, doctor of medicine, Rector; William Forbes, doctor of divinity, D. of F.

Present at visitation of the College, 31st December, when an ordinance was made “that the College fees payable by the students to the regents should be conform as they were appointed at a visitation in the King’s College, viz.,

¹ For the duties and method of election of the Rector and Dean of Faculty, see the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., pp. 44-58). The Universities (Scotland) Act of 1858, § 10, provided that the Rector of the University of Aberdeen should be elected by the matriculated students “voting according to the present usage in Marischal College”. There has thus been preserved in Aberdeen a closer approximation to early academic usage than in the other Scottish Universities, for in Aberdeen alone the Rector is still chosen by four procurators, elected previously by the Nations. In Glasgow the Nations do not elect procurators, but vote directly for the Rector; in St. Andrews the Nations were abolished by Ordinance No. 4 of the 1858 Commission; in Edinburgh they never existed.

“The definition of the Nations given in the Charter does not, in some respects, correspond to what has been long followed in practice. The nation to which foreigners are to be assigned is not mentioned; it has been the custom to add them to the Angusians, or those born south of the Carn o’ Month. The word diocesis employed in the Charter evidently indicates the true division. The Aberdonensis diocesis is divided into the Marriensis and Buchanensis. Marriensis has Garioch added to it, and comprehends not only the tract between the Dee and the Don, but also Alford, Strathdon, and Garioch, or all to the south of Formartine; it also includes the parishes of Strachan, Banchory-Ternan, Banchory-Devenick, and Maryculter, in the county of Kincardine, but in the diocese of Aberdeen. Buchanensis ought to include Buchan, Formartin, and Strathbogie, or those parts of the Counties of Aberdeen and Banff lying between the Deveron on the West and North, and Mar and Garioch on the South, exclusive of all that part of Scotland not included in the two foregoing divisions, lying to the North of the Mons Grampius (Carn o’ Month), which contains the Moravicensis. But as the parishes of Huntly, Gartly, Rhynie and Essie, Glass, and Cairnie were not within the diocese of Aberdeen, they ought to be included in the Moravicensis; and Formartine is by custom taken in with Mar, Buchan being viewed as having the Ythan for its Southern boundary.” (Knight, circa 1840.)
twenty marks for the sons of noblemen and barons, ten pound for the sons of other gentlemen, and the bursars and poor scholars to be taught gratis". Memoirs relating to Union of Colleges, Aberd., 1755, p. 249. Dun had been Professor of Logic in 1610, and became Principal in 1621, infra. Forbes had been Professor of Logic in 1609, and became Principal in 1620, infra.

1625. William Forbes, Rector.

Graduation Theses dedicated to him in this capacity, infra.

1642. William Forbes; John Forbes, doctor, D. of E.

Sign a deed, 14th April, constituting Principal Dun common procurator of the College (Ch. Ch. "Rectors," 2.) The D. of E. is probably the contemporary Professor of Divinity at King's College. Off. and Grad., p. 68.)

1642. William Guild.

Elected "Rector of King Charles's Universitie of Aberdeen," 14th Nov. 1642, and Grad.,* p. 10."

1643. William Guild.

Re-elected 23rd November.

1648. David Lindsay.

Signs as Rector a discharge of Marischal College accounts, Minister of Belshill. Seems to have been Rector of King's College, 1645-50, Off. and Grad., p. 11. The Caroline Union, though not referred to in the elections, doubtless subsisted during that period.

1661. Arthur Rose; Lewis Gordon, M.D., D. of E.

This being the first election recorded in the old Rectoral Minute Book, part of Album B., the minutes are quoted verbatim.

"Att Aberc. the authentick day of October 1661 or three score and two trees, D. James Leslie principal, Mr Wm. Meldrum, Mr George Cameron, Mr Wm. Paterson, Mr John Gordon, regents.

The quired day in presence of the principal and regents of the college

    Rev. Dr. George Forbes, Strathdon.

1823. James, Earl Fife; Hugh Lumsden, D. of F.
    Assessors: Dr. William Ruddiman, Hugh Gordon, Rev. Dr. George Forbes, Alexander Gordon, provost. In the minute for the first time are left out the words, "which election the Principal and Professors did ratify and approve".
    The entry simply bears that the procurators elected Earl Fife, but, according to Professor Knight, one of the nations, Mr. presentation, Alexander Henderson, chose Joseph Hume, M.P. The Rector gave the Rector prize books.

    Assessors: Alexander Brown, Thomas Gordon of Carne, Alexander
    Bannerman, Andrew Findlay, William Anderson, William Roche, Professors Davidson and Hamilton protest. A. M. 1824 requesting the College in the Aberdeen Church Minutes. See also, "Minutes of the Proceedings of the Aberdeen and Marischal College on the Subject of the Application," Aberdeen, 1824.
    Hume was M.D. of 1709.

    Assessors: as last year. On 14th November the Rector held a Court at the University to register and to have a public advertisement to engage more students and instructors in the interest of the College, in order to the improvement of the Education. See also, "Minutes of Proceedings," Aberdeen, 1826. Sir James McGrigor, M.D., Director General of the Army Medical Department; Alexander Thomson of Banchory, D. of F.

1827. Sir James McGrigor; Duncan Davidson of Tillychelly, D. of F.

Assessors: Alexander Bannerman, Alexander Brown, lord provost; John Gordon of Craigmyle, Alexander Crombie of Phisco. Mar voted for Joseph Hume. "The most tumultuous election, chiefly from a party of divinity students. See the investigation. in the Minute Book, on two of them, John and Daniel Mackenzie, who attempted to force their way violently into the Hall before the election was over." Knight.

A portrait of Sir James McGrigor by Dyce, subscribed for by the students of 1826, and now in the possession of the University, is reproduced in this volume.

1828. Joseph Hume; Duncan Davidson, D. of F.

1829. Duncan Davidson, D. of F.

Assessors: Alexander Bannerman, Thomas Gordon of Carnness, Thomas Burnett, advocate, Aberdeen; John Thurburn of Murtle. No Rector. Mar and Buchan voted for Sir James McGrigor, Angus and Moray for Joseph Hume. There being no precedent or rule in the Charter, the whole case was referred to the Commissioners of Visitation then sitting. (Urkunde, Vol. IV., pp. 298-301.) The Commissioners recommended a new election, but declined to grant a warrant for holding this on any day other than March 1. On the advice of the Chancellor a new election was held. (Coll. Minutes, Sept. 25, Nov. 7, Dec. 25.) "During nearly an hour amid great clamour and noises of various kinds, short speeches were made by different students. . . . An attempt was made by a considerable number of the students to force their way into the hall where the Senatus were sitting; which attempt was repelled by the Professors." (Minutes.) Hume claimed the right as Rector of the preceding year to have a casting vote, which he proposed to give to his opponent, but the Senatus unanimously disallowed this. See also Letters addressed to the students of Marischal College, by Joseph Hume, M.P. Aberd., 1829.

1830. Sir Charles Forbes, bart.; Duncan Davidson, D. of F.

Assessors: Gavin Haddie, lord provost; Charles Bannerman of Crimmon.
1831. William, 17th Earl of Erroll; Duncan Davidson, D. of F.
Assessors: Basil Fisher, James Hadden, lord provost; Thomas Gordon of Cairness, Thomas Burnett, advocate. "Election quiet. Hume's party again bring forward Sir Walter Scott, in order to divide, but it was a failure, not one nation voting for Joseph" (Knight). "Dec. 10. Dean of Faculty has agreed with Anderson of Candacraig. Damage o" (Knight).

1832. Sir Michael Bruce of Stenhouse, bart.; Duncan Davidson, D. of F.
Assessors: Basil Fisher, James Hadden, Alexander Bannerman, James Blakie, advocate, Aberdeen. Moray voted for Sir James McIntosh [sic in Rectorial Minutes, but McIvor according to Knight]. "Hume not even proposed as a candidate."

1833. Sir Charles Forbes of Neve and Edinglassie, bart.; Duncan Davidson, D. of F.
Assessors, by a majority: Gavin Hadden, lord provost; Alexander Bannern-man, M.P.; Rev. Dr. George Forbes of Blaebuck, Patrick Davidson, advocate.
Moray voted for Francis Jeffrey, lord advocate.

1834. Alexander Bannerman, M.P.; James Blakie, lord provost, D. of F.
Assessors: James Blakie, Thomas Bannerman, Dean of Guild; Benjamin Williamson, surgeon; Robert Abercrombie, merchant. The procurators claimed to be allowed to vote in the election of Dean of Faculty, but this was disallowed. Professor Knight protested against the elections on this occasion for reasons which are entered at length.

1835. John Abercrombie, M.D., Edinburgh; James Blakie, D. of F.
Assessors: James Blakie, Basil Fisher of Devanha, James Andrew Sandi-lands of Cranes, Alexander Joy, advocate. Moray voted for Alexander Bannerman. Professor Knight again protests. Dr. Abercrombie's Rectorial Address, delivered November 5, on The Culture and Discipline of the Mind, had been frequently reprinted. "The noise very moderate. Next day he gave a dinner to sixty in the Rooms, and afterwards £50 for prizes. On the 8th the Principal and professors accompanied him twice to the College Gallery in the Greyfriars" (Knight). See Letter to the students of Marischal College on the election of Lord Rector. Aberd., 1835. Dr. Abercrombie was M.A. of 1798.

1836. John Abercrombie; James Blakie, D. of F.
Assessors: James Blakie, Alexander Webster, advocate; Middleton Restie, merchant; James Harper, bailie.

1837. John, Lord Lyndhurst; Alexander Bannerman, M.P., D. of F.
Assessors: Hon. William Gordon, M.P.; James Hadden of Persley, Major General [the Hon.] Hugh Arbuthnott, M.P.; Henry Lumsden of Tilshillie.
Moray voted for John Abercrombie, M.D., and Moray for John C. Colquhoun of Killermont.
1838. Henry, Lord Brougham and Vaux; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

1839. John Campbell Colquhoun of Killermont; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

Assessors: Sir George Sinclair of Pitmedden, James Haddo of Persley, Hon. William Gordon, M.P.; Hugh Lumsden of Pitcaple. The Rectorial address delivered November 27, was printed in Glasgow.

1840. Sir George Sinclair of Ulbster, bart.; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

1841. Sir James McGrigor, bart.; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

1842. Sir John Herschel; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

Assessors: George Dempster of Skibo, James Gordon of Craig, Hon. William Gordon, M.P.; Robert Simpson of Colbairns. Moray voted for Sir James McGrigor, Moray for the Hon. Fox Maule. Angry protest against the action of Professors Brown and Lizar, who, when the vote in the Aries Nation was stated to be 17 to 16 in favour of the procurator representing Sir John Herschel, preferred their votes on the side of the minority, although it never was “the custom for professors to vote at the Rectorial election; the only exception being that of one professor who had given in his election once or twice several years ago”.

1843. John, 2nd Marquis of Breadalbane; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

1844. Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

Assessors: not mentioned, as the meeting "unanimously find there is no election" of Rector. Moray and Arees voted for the Marquis of Breadalbane. Buchan and Moray for the Marquis of Dule.

1845. Archibald Alison; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.

Assessors: John Farquharson of Haughton, Thomas Blackie, lord provost; Thomas Abercrombie Duff of Haddo, William P. Alison, M.D. Edinburg. The Rector was made LL.D.
1846. Archibald Alison; Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.
Assessors: John Farquharson, Thomas Blaikie, Alexander Thomson of Banchory, Captain Fordyce of Brucklay.

1847. Alexander Bannerman, D. of F.
Assessors: as last year. No Rector elected, Mar and Buchan voting for the Earl of Rossie, Angus and Moray for Thomas Babington Macaulay. The meeting resolved to enquire whether the late Rector has a casting vote.

1848. Patrick Robertson, Lord Robertson; Sir Michael Bruce, bart., D. of F.
Assessors: Alexander Thomson, George Thompson, lord provost; Alexander Forbes of Blackford, C. G. Robertson, sheriff substitute of Kincardine. The Rector was made LL.D. The Rectorial address was printed at Aberdeen, 1848. See also "A chapter showing how Lord P. became our rector," by P. C. Bilton in Fraser's Magazine for July, 1863.

1849. John Thomson Gordon, sheriff depute of Edinburgh; Sir Michael Bruce, D. of F.
Assessors: Alexander Forbes, Lord James Hay, Alexander Dingwall Fordyce, M.P.; William Watson, sheriff substitute of Aberdeen. Buchan voted for Lord Robertson. Charles Dickens had been asked to allow himself to be nominated, and his reply has been preserved.

"Brighton, Tuesday Evening, 20th February, 1849.

"Sir, I beg to assure you that I am very sensible of the feeling which has induced you to propose me as a candidate for the Lord Rectorship of your College, and that I feel much beholden to you for that mark of your regard and consideration.

"But, in reply to your note in which you do me the favour to ask my consent to this nomination, I am constrained to say, without any reservation whatever, that I do not aspire to the high honour in question, and that I must entreat you to withdraw my name at my express desire. I take the earliest opportunity in my power of making this communication to you; but my absence from town for a week past, and my absence from this place during this day, have combined to prevent my answering your letter sooner. It was forwarded here this morning. I am, Sir, yours faithfully and obliged,

"CHARLES DICKENS."

The Rectorial Address, delivered 23rd March, was printed at Aberdeen in 1849, as also an Address, delivered 26th November, at the opening of session 1850/51.

1850. John Thomson Gordon; Sir Michael Bruce, D. of F.
Assessors: Alexander Forbes, Alexander Dingwall Fordyce, William Watson, George Thompson, lord provost. Thomas Carlyle had been asked to allow himself to be nominated. His characteristic reply has been preserved.
"Gentlemen.—Your announcement very much surprised me, not surely in an unpleasant way, and I beg in the meantime to thank you very cordially, you and my other young Friends in Aberdeen, for the honour you are doing me. The election to a merely formal office, I suppose, may go in this way or that, without momentous consequences; but the fact that ingenuous young souls in your University, in poor old Scotland far away, are loyal disposed to me, and willing to testify that feeling by such methods as they have this is already a possession, of a valuable and to me almost of an affecting nature, which I shall not have to part with. With the election itself I must not in the least interfere, for or against. In respect of personally visiting Aberdeen, too, I am constrained to say that travelling is at all times very not downward to me, and that at present there are some special causes rather detaining me here; on the whole, that if there be no real duty, but only a formal or ceremonial one, to be done in Aberdeen, I had much better not come, but that if there do appear some real fraction of duty to be done, in the event of my election, I will certainly make an effort to come. More I cannot say at present. And so with many thanks and kind regards, I remain, Gentlemen, your most obed

"T. CARLYLE.

"To Messrs. Thomson & Harper, Divinity Students, etc."

Fifteen years later Carlyle was elected Rector of his own university of Edinburgh.

1851. Archibald, 13th Earl of Eglinton : Sir Michael Bruce, D. of F.
Assessors: Alexander Forbes, John Cowan, sheriff of Kincardine; George Henry, lord provost; Alexander Currie, sheriff of Banff. The Rectorial Address, delivered 23rd March, was printed at Aberdeen, 1851. Tennyson had been asked to allow himself to be nominated, but declined.

Assessors: George Henry, Alexander Currie, William Watson, Sr Michael Bruce, bart. Lord Eglinton was chosen Rector of Glasgow University in the same year.

1853. George, 7th Earl of Carlisle: Alexander Thomson, D. of F.
Assessors: George Henry, William Watson, George Thompson, M.P.; Sir James Carnegie of Southesk, 6th bart. The Rector was made LL.D., 10th March. The Rectorial Address, delivered 11st March, was printed at Aberdeen, 1853.

Assessors: Alexander Innes of Cowie, Thomas Blair, lord provost; Archibald Davidson, sheriff depute of Aberdeen; Robert Grant of Hilltown. Motay voted for the Earl of Carlisle. The Rectorial Address, delivered 30th March, was printed at Aberdeen, 1854.

1855. Austin Henry Layard, M.P.; Alexander Thomson, D. of F.

Assessors: Sir John Ogilvie, William Stirling, John Webster, lord provost; Alexander Kilgour, M.D., Aberdeen. No Rector elected, Mar and Buchan voting for A. H. Layard, Angus and Moray for James, 8th Earl of Elgin.

1858. Philip, 5th Earl Stanhope; Alexander Thomson, D. of F.
Assessors: William Stirling, John Webster, Alexander Kilgour, James Dyce Nicol of Ballogie. Moray voted for M. E. Grant Duff, younger of Eden (Rector of Aberdeen University, 1866-72). Alexander Thomson was elected by a majority of ten votes to four for Alexander Henderson of Caskieben [founded chair of Med. Jurispr. 1857]. The Rectorial Address, delivered 25th March, was printed at Aberdeen, 1858.

1859. David, 7th Earl of Airlie; Sir Thomas Blaikie, D. of F.
Assessors: John Webster, Alexander Kilgour, James Dyce Nicol, Rev. James Fraser, Aberdeen. Thackeray and Carlyle were nominated for the Rectorship. At the election for D. of F., Alexander Thomson was proposed, and being present claimed a right not only to vote for himself, but to act as chairman of the meeting, and to declare himself elected. This claim was afterwards withdrawn. The Rectorial Address, delivered 17th March, was printed at Aberdeen, 1859.

Assessors: as last year.
PRINCIPALS.1

1593. Robert Howie.

One of the ministers of Aberdeen. Witnesses the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., p. 59), and is Principal in the same year (p. 102). Had studied at King's College, at Herborn, and at Basel. Translated to be minister of Dundee, 1598; Principal of St. Mary's College, St. Andrews, 1607; Commissioner for visiting the Universities of Aberdeen, 1619; demitted St. And. Principalship, 1639. Author of De autentica Dei predestinatione, Basil, 1591; also (according to Cat. of Scot. Writ.) 1598. Gilbert Gray.

M.A. Edin., 1592. Had also studied at King's College, and at Hard Hall. Died 1614; buried 29th December. "An oration funebris is pronounced upon Mr Gilbert Gray late Principal of the Marischal College, anno 1615 by one of his scholars, when he was receiving the laurea magistralis. See this oration in manuscript. [Not now extant.] From it he appears to have been born in Aberdeen, connected by father and mother with the best burghers of the town: Alexander Rutherford, provost, his mother's brother; Alexander Cullen, provost, Mr Alexander Cullen his son, Paul Menzies, Walter Menzies, Thomas Forbes, and William Gray, being all his sister and brother burghers. . . . He was remarkably diligent and besides keeping his hours strictly, he frequently gave public lectures, where students of divinity and physics, as well as the other masters attended. The author . . . commends in high tones his diligence in teaching, his modesty, his wisdom, his meekness in disputations, and above all his religious turn of mind. Gordon. Author of Oration funebris in memoriam Duncan Liddell, Edin., 1614; Oratio de illustribus Scotis scriptoribus, Aberdeen, 1623 (reprinted by MacKenzie). Arms on old ceiling: Gules, a lion rampant within a bordure engrailed or. (Dict. Nat. Br. New Spald. Club Misc., 1.)

1 For duties and method of election, see Vol. I., p. 42.

1616. Andrew Aedie.

On Gray's death, the Town Council suggested two names to the Earl Marischal, Patrick Sands (then a regent in Edinburgh), and Alexander Home, and the former was nominated (Vol. I., pp. 167-8), but apparently did not accept, as Aedie is styled Principal on 15th March, 1616, "recommended by the King to the Earl Marshal" (Gordon). Dismitted office 1619. Author of Pudorii us decenta distributa eclogas, Dantisc., 1610; Tractatus de noctumambulorum ingenio, Dantisc., 1612; Clavis philosophiae moralis, Oppenh., 1614. Arms on old ceiling: Argent, a mullet between three cross-crosslets fitchée gules. (Irving's Lives, Gordon's MS.)

1620. William Forbes.

D.D., St. And., and one of the ministers of Aberdeen (Vol. I., pp. 186-7). Mr. Andrew Ramsay, minister at Edinburgh, was "socht" by the Earl Marischal, but his "transplantation was altogether refused". Forbes had been a regent, infra. He dismitted office in 1621, was Rector in 1632, and in 1634 became first bishop of Edinburgh. Author of Considerationes modestae, various edns. Portrait by Jamesone in possession of University, reproduced in Wodrow's Biog. Coll., ed. Lippe. Arms on old ceiling: Azure, three bear's heads couped argent. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1621. Patrick Dun.

M.D., Basil. (Kennedy); "a verie famous professor in Germanie" (Buik of Reg.). Previously regent, infra, rector, infra; and mediciner at King's Coll. (Off. and Grad., p. 33). A native of Aberdeen (son of umquhile Andrew Dun, burgess), Dun was the first lay principal. A benefactor of the College (Vol. I., p. 231, where his arms, from the ceiling, are given). Died circa 1649. Author of Thematia medica de dobro colico, Basil., 1607; and editor of Duncan Liddell's Ars conservandi sanitatem, Aberd., 1651. Portrait by Jamesone in possession of Grammar School, reproduced in Vol. I. (Strachan's Panegyricus; Smith's Oratio; Gordon's MS.)

1649. William Moir.

Previously professor of Mathematics, infra, which post he was allowed to retain with the principalship, 20th June, 1649 (T. C. Reg., iii., 222). Resigned both offices in 1661. "He wrote on Geometry and the mechanical part of Mathematicks" (Cat. of Scot. Writ.). Portrait in possession of University. Arms on ceiling: Azure, three moor's heads couped argent.

1661. James Leslie.

Baian, 1636. M.D. "After his travells in France and the Low Countries, he came home to Aber., and was called to be physician to the town be the Counsell thereof" (Buik of Reg.). Author of Ὀ αρτήριον Ὀρθρίου Ἀπολάμματι, Aberd., 1661. Arms on ceiling: Argent, on a fess between a mullet in chief and a tulip in base vert, three buckles of the field [?]. (Family of Leslie, iii., 409.)

Previously regent and librarian, infra. The latter office, then the best paid in the College, he continued to hold (Vol. I., p. 204). His nomination by the Earl Marischal to the principaship, vacant "throw Master James Leslie his removall from the said charge," is the first entry in the Register of Presentations. Children: Mr. David, Robert, Elizabeth, Maragt, Agnus, Mary, Isobell, Cathren. (Poll Book.) Erected heraldic ceiling (Vol. I., p. 118), in which his own arms appear as: Argent, three pelicans in their piety proper; on a chief azure as many mullets of the field; a mitre azure for difference. Died 1717. Portrait in possession of University.

1717, Sept. 30. Thomas Blackwell.

D.D. Previously professor of Divinity, infra, and minister of Grey Friars Church, Aberdeen, which offices he retained, being the only professor not ejected by the Commission of Visitation. His appointment to the principalship was the first nomination by the Crown, the Earl Marischal forfeiting his rights of patronage with his title. Died 1728. Author of Ratio sacra, Edin., 1710; Schema sacrum, Edin., 1710; Formula sacra, Bost., 1714; Methodus evangelica, Lond., 1712. Portrait in possession of Incorporated Trades, Aberdeen, of which body he was fifth Patron. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1728, June 8. John Osborn.

M.A., 1708; D.D. One of the ministers of Aberdeen. He retained both offices till his death on 19th Aug., 1748. Portrait by Alexander in possession of Incorporated Trades, Aberdeen, of which body he was sixth Patron. (Reg. of Pres.; Scott’s Fasti.)

1748, Nov. 9. Thomas Blackwell, the younger.

M.A., 1718; L.L.D., King’s Coll., 1752. Previously Professor of Greek, infra, which office he retained. The magistrates had recommended Professor Robert Pollock to the Crown (T. C. Reg., 1st, 234, 350). Principal Blackwell brought on a consumptive habit by great abstemiousness and died at Edinburgh on his way to London, 8th March, 1757, in his 56th year. . . . His religious opinions were said to be inclined to heretical. . . . His nickname among the students ‘Ratio profana’” (Knight). His widow was a benefactor (Vol. I., p. 461). Author of Enquiry into life and writings of Homer, Lond., 1745, etc.; Proofs of ditto, Lond., 1747; Letters concerning Mythology, Lond., 1748; Memoirs of the court of Augustus, Edin., 1752-63, etc. (Dict. Nat. Biog.; Campbell Fraser’s Berkeley, Vol. IV.)

D.D., 1753. Previously Professor of Divinity, infra, and minister of Grey Friars, which offices he retained. Died 1759. Had married, 1747, Elizabeth, daughter of Provost Alex. Robertson of Glasgow. Portraits of himself and his wife in possession of University.

M.A., 1738; D.D., King’s Coll., 1764. One of the ministers of Aberdeen, which office he retained until 1771, when he was appointed Professor of Divinity and minister of Grey Friars. Demitted the chair 2nd June, 1765, and the Principalship 16th Jan., 1796; died 6th Apr., 1796. Had married Grace Farquharson: no issue. His works are well known. Portrait by Arch. Robertson, in possession of the Incorporated Trades (of which body he was tenth Patron), reproduced in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll., and in this volume. Copy by Sir George Reid in possession of University. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

M.A., St. And., 1772; D.D., St. And., and Utrecht. Had been appointed to the chair of Divinity and the Grey Friars charge by the Town Council, 15th June, 1795 (T. C. Reg., lxvii., 70). Previously Professor of Moral Philosophy and the Law of Nations at Utrecht, where he had been a student. Died 11th May, 1830. Married his uncle's daughter, Anne Elizabeth Brown, 29th May, 1756, with issue, William Robert, Laurence George, Catherine Mary Ann, Johanna Elizabeth (called Janet), Robert James (afterwards Prof. of Greek), Ann Elizabeth (called Nancy), John Moore, Helen Jane, George Gilbert (M.D., 1825). His numerous writings have been frequently catalogued. (Dict. Nat. Biog.; MS. Widow's Fund Reg.)

M.A., Edin., 1815; L.L.D., Glasg., 1815. Previously Professor of Moral Philosophy at King's Coll. (Off. and Grad., p. 65), and Minister of Grey Friars, Aberdeen, and of Tron Church, Glasgow. The Senatus had petitioned the Crown in favour of Professor Glennie, and unanimously expressed disapproval of Dr. Dewar's appointment. Prof. of Church History, 1833, infra. Retired office on the union of the Universities in 1860. Died 28th May, 1867. Had married, 17th Oct., 1821, Susan Place, with issue, Ann Gordon (m. John McCunn), Catherine Mary (m. Prof. James Clerk Maxwell), Susan Place, Edward Place, William Gordon, Donald, John. Author of sundry theological works. (Bruce's Aberdeen Pulpit; Widow's Fund MS. Reg.)
REGENTS.

16? Patrick Gray.
Not in Kennedy’s list. Sigs. assedations to James Menzies, 4th Sept., 1601; and to Alexander Molleson, 14th September, 1601. (Book of Regs.) 2 Brother of Principal Gilbert Gray. (Dedication to Thos. of 1675, infra.)

Not in Kennedy’s list. Stated in Sydserf’s Life to have been appointed Professor of Logic (i.e., teacher of the Semin class) soon after his graduation in 1601, and to have taught for four sessions. Mentioned in Aberdeen Presbytery Records, 1st November, 1605; and in Principal Gilbert Gray’s Rental of 1606. (Vol. I., p. 107.) Afterwards Principal, p. 28.

1603. Thomas Reid.
Not in Kennedy’s list. Denies office of teacher in Grammar School on appointment as Regent, 12th October, 1603. (T. C. Reg., xlii., 115.) Afterwards Secretary “for the Latin tongue” to James VI., and a benefactor to the College Library. (Vol. I., p. 107.) Portrait in possession of the University is reproduced in Vol. I., and in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll. A detailed list of Reid’s writings will be found in the present editor’s notice in Dict. Nat. Bio. See also Scottish N. and Q., IX., 145, 161.

1 Three in number by the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., p. 42); a fourth was added in 1620, when the Principal ceased to teach the highest class (p. 156). Originally the regents were professors in the modern sense (p. 61), but this system was abandoned about 1617. (Cf. Off. and Grad., p. 315.) It was, however, resumed in 1740, infra. No record of presentation to regencies is extant before 1670: the earlier names have been collected from various sources, and the list is obviously imperfect. Kennedy gives 29 regents, “with the dates of their several admissions,” from 1593 to 1676, but at least 25 of his 29 dates are wrong. 3 A table showing the sequence of teaching is attempted in the Appendix.

2 “Andrew” Young, having graduated in Edinburgh, had gone to serve as regent in Marischal College, which was always a good School of Mathematics. . . . He came back to Edinburgh as regent in 1601.” Sir Alexander Grant (Story of the Univ. of Edinb., III., 293), quoting from Professor Chrystal’s Inaugural Address. Dr. Chrystal writes that he cannot recall his authority for this statement. “Marischal” is probably a slip for “King’s.” (Cf. Off. and Grad., p. 33.)
Andrew Keith.

Patrick Dun.
Not in Kennedy's list. Mentioned, 1610, as Professor of Logic in MS. C, p. 79, University Library. Probably succeeded Forbes in his chair, as he afterwards (1621) did in the Principalship, p. 28.

William Gray.

Peter Blackburn.
Mentioned in T. C. Reg., xvi., 487, 15th March, 1610, together with John Ross and Adam Reid. Kennedy gives Peter Blackburn, John Ross, and David Reid as regents in 1598. This is manifestly a group of blunders. (Cf. Kennedy’s MS. Index to the T. C. Regs., s.v. “College.”) Peter Blackburn, afterwards Bishop of Aberdeen, signs the Foundation Charter as a witness in 1593, and is Dean of Faculty in 1598, p. 10, but there is no proof that he acted as Regent. He died 14th June, 1616. Author (see to Scott’s Fasti of a Potter against James Gordon the Jesuit. The Regent of 1610 seems to have been his son, -Spald. Club Misc., Vol. V., p. 140; and Returns of Services of Bursars, 17th July, 1610, who appears as a Semi of 1605, and died in 1619. (Returns, 14th November, 1610.)

Adam Reid.
Given by Kennedy under 1610, in which year he was promoted to the Ministry of Methlic. He was younger brother of Secretary Reid above mentioned. (Scott’s Fasti.) Bajan, 1609.

John Ross.
Given by Kennedy under 1610, and signs appointment of a Liddell Bursar, 3rd June, 1616. (Back of Reg., Semi, 1605.

John Gordon.
Not in Kennedy’s list. Must have succeeded Blackburn, as (together with John Ross and Adam Reid) he signs assedation to Patrick Symmers, December, 1610. See also letter from the Laird of Drum. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., “Bursaries,” XXIII., 1.) Mentioned (with Reid) in precept of warning against Menzies, 3rd April, 1615; and (with Reid and Massie) in decree against Menzies, 29th June, 1611. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. Mass HI., Nos. 42, 47.) Bajan, 1609.

George Chalmers.
“Mr. George Chalmers, Minister at Dumbennan, burgess of this burgh, and sometime one of the Ministers thereof and regent in the said College.” (T. C. Regs., xix., 418, 27th October, 1619.) Kennedy, misinterpreting this entry, gives George Chalmers as regent in 1619. It is remarkable that no such name occurs in the list of incumbents of Aberdeen charges given in Scott’s Fasti. (Cf. P. H. Chalmers’ Mem. of Information.)
16 Andrew Massie.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1623, but is mentioned in decree against Menzies, 1649. Signs as "Logician Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Semi class), two Epitaphs in the *Lachrymae sub Oblatum Georgii Comitis Mariscalli, Abred., 1623; and 6th April, 1626 (together with Ogston, Sibbald, and Wedderburn), an assedation to David Anderson. (Index Reg.) Andrew Massie is named as Oeconomus in a Burgh Court Decree of 17th February, 1622. By the Foundation Charter the Oeconomus was an official distinct from the Regents. James Forbes of Tulliboy was appointed first Oeconomus, 18th June, 1503. (T. C. Reg., xxxiv., 83.) Massie and Sibbald are made burgesses, "ex gratia," 25th Oct., 1617. New Spald. Cat. Misc. 1. Bajan, 1619.

1619. William Ogston.

Not in Kennedy's list. Appointed in 1619, as in 1629, when he is transferred to the Semi class. It is stated that he has taught the Tertians "this seven yeers bygane." In the latter year apparently succeeding Andrew Massie, he received a presentation to the Logic professorship, "the key of the whole College and the course thereof very long and therein requiring any learned diligent and careful master to teach the same ..., quhairin if he should be found to be deficient and after due admonition not amending then in that case the said Mr. William to be bound ... to demit the said second class absolutely and to tak him to the third class." Min. of Admission, 25th October, 1620. Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Professorships," No. 2. Designated "Philosophiæ Naturaliis Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Tertian class. On the title-page of his Ordinum Funeraria in Oblatum Georgii Mariscalli Comiti, Abred., 1623; and 6th April, 1626), signs the assedation to David Anderson. Promoted to be minister of Hailes, 1635. (Hist. of Ogston Families.) Semi, 1619. B.D.

1620. James Sibbald.

M.A., 1618. Signs as "Philosophiæ Naturaliis Professor," an Epitaph in the Lachrymae, also the assedation to David Anderson, 1620. The Professor of Natural Philosophy taught the Magistral class, and Sibbald was the first holder of the office of fourth regent, instituted at March, 1624, when the newly appointed Principal, William Forbes, was relieved from the duty of teaching. Kennedy gives 1619 as the date of Sibbald's appointment, but this is certainly wrong. Graduation theses maintained under his presidency are extant for the years 1622 (Abd. Univ. Libr., 1623; Bodl., 1625; Bodl., 1630. In the last of these years he was appointed one of the Ministers of Aberdeen. B.D., King's Coll., 1627; D.D., 1628. Sibbald was one of the "Aberdeen Doctors." In addition to his graduation theses, he contributed a Sermon to Forbes' Funerale and wrote Diverse Select Sermons, printed posthumously at Aberdeen in 1658. (Scott's Fasti: Forbes' Funerale, ed. 1845.)

16 William Wedderburn.

Signs as "Græccarum Literarum Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Bajan class), verses in the Lachrymae and the Theses of 1623; also the assedation to David Anderson, 1626. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Bethelny, not later than 1633. (Scott's Fasti.) He was brother of David Wedderburn, the Rector of the Grammar School (Abd. and Bff. Coll., p. 60), and Alexander Wedderburn.

1626. John Seton.

M.A., 1616. Succeeded Sibbald in 1626 (Kennedy says 1636) as Professor of Natural Philosophy. As such, signs (together with Gordon, Aidie, and Ray) a Rectorial minute, 14th April, 1632 (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Rectors," 2); and (with the same three) is mentioned in a summons raised by Sir A. Irvine of Drum, 1633. Graduation theses maintained under his presidency are extant for the years 1627 (Bodl.), 1630 (Bodl.), 1631 (Abd.), 1634 (Bodl.), 1647 (Bodl.). Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Kemnay, not later than 1641. (Scott's Fasti.)

ministerial charge in Aberdeen, 1649, and to the incumbency of Greyfriars Church in the following year. Kennedy gives his name under the year 1643, but this cannot be correct, as in 1635-37 the four regencies were undoubtedly held by Aidie, Blackhall, Kay, and Seton. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1658 [?].

16 ? Andrew Youngson.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1645, but this is certainly wrong, for on 4th Oct., 1644, "Mr. Andrew Youngson, formerly a Regent in the Mar. Coll.," is elected a Regent at King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 50.) He "afterwards became a Papist and Jesuit, and a Professor at Madrid." (Knight.) He must have succeeded either Blackhall or Seton. "He wrote De Predestination." (Cat. Scot. Writ.) Bajan, 1655.

16 ? Patrick Sandilands.

M.A., King's Coll., 1643. Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1646, but the date is almost certainly wrong, for on 24th June of that year he is transferred to the Regency in King's College, vacated by Youngson. (Off. and Grad.) Afterwards Sub-Principal there: Theses of 1660 (Bodl.). (Morgan's Woodside, p. 150.)

M.A., King's Coll., 1643. Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1650; but signs discharges of College accounts together with John Kay, Robert Burnet, and James Chalmers, 1st November, 1648; and is mentioned in Index of Reg., as having charge of Bajan class of 1649-49. His name appears with those of Andrew Cant, Alexander Whyte, and George Meldrum, in sundry charters granted by the Caroline University, 1655 & 58; and with William Meldrum, George Banner man, and Thomas Paterson, he signs a tack to Marjory Jameson, 26th June, 1653. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. Mass. XII., 26.) He is named with the same three in a decrect against Mitchell, and Feb., 1663. On 24th October of that year he appears as a Regent at King's College, and is subsequently Canonist there. (Off. and Grad., p. 57.) Mar. Coll. Theses, 1655 (Bodl., 1660, Abd.); King's Coll. Theses, 1680, 1684. "He wrote a Logick Course of Philosophy." (Cat. Scot. Writ.)

16 ? James Chalmers.

M.A., King's Coll., 1645. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs College accounts, 1648, at supra. This is the James Chalmers stated in Scott's Fasti Ill., 508, to have been promoted in 1651 from a Regency in King's College to be Minister of New Machar. No such name occurs in the list of Regents of King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 56.)

16 ? Andrew Cant.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1653; but is mentioned in the Index of Reg., as having charge of the Magistral class in 1649-50; and in charters of 1651-58. Theses for 1654 (Bodl.), and 1658 (Abd.). "He wrote a Physical Course of Philosophy, also De libero arbitrio." (Cat. Scot. Writ.) Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Liberton in 1650 (Scott's Fasti), and Principal of the University of Edinburgh in 1675 (Grant's Story). This was the son of the famous Andrew. He matriculated at Marischal College in 1640. Infra. Joseph Robertson says of him (Deliciae Literariae, p. 25): "He lived to become a conjuring bishop". But the bishop was a third Andrew, son of the Regent's brother, Alexander. (Grub's Engl. Hist., III., 387.

Nos. 4, 7, 8.) On 1st August of that year he had been condemned at a Rectorial Court for issuing "heterodox and profane theses..." that became no Christian nor civil man to maintain, they altogether reflecting upon the fame of the Universitie, and being an open fiendlet to murder, drunkenness and idolatrie." (Book of Regs.) Bajan, 1657.

1664. John Gordon.

M.A., 1658. Not in Kennedy's list. Adm. in Acad., 1664-65. In 1664, Patrick Strachan complains that Gordon, "servant to Sir Robert Farquhar," has been admitted regent "in lieu of the petitioner, being neither cited heard nor advertised of their procedure much less sentenced or censured," and is "endeavouring in a most subdolous way to intrude himself in the place whereof the petitioner is yet in possession." (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Professorships," No. 4.) Present at Rectorial election, March, 1665.

1664. William Paterson.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1665, but present at election of bibliothecar, 5th March, 1667. Thesae for 1669 (Adm.). Present at Rectorial elections in March, 1673, and March, 1674, but not 1675. Became Minister of Glass, 1679. (Scott's Pass; Roger's House of Alexander.) Bajan, 1666.

1667. Robert Bruce.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1667, but present at election of bibliothecar, 1667; also at Rectorial elections in 1673 and 1674, but not 1675. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Old Dee not later than 1676. Scott's Pass, probably in 1674, for in July of that year his place as a regent had been taken by John Farquhar. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Librarian." C. J. Nos. 4 and 6.) He is called "late recent" in an Instrument, Seaton divinity student act. the Magistrates, 2nd July, 1674. (Dugald Ch. Ch., "College," C. 7.) Bajan, 1667.

1667. Thomas Gray.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1667, but named as teacher of Bajan class, 1667, in Book of Regs. Thesae for 1673. Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. He is stated in them to be a grandson of Principal Gilbert Gray. He was present at the Rectorial election of that year, but not in 1673. It would appear from a paper in the Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Professorships," No. 5, that Gray taught the first class for three successive sessions, and thenceforth "ascended" in the usual manner. The same Thos. Gray, "son to the deceased Provost Gray," acted as College Librarian in 1666-73. (T. C. Regs. No. 158, 526.) Bajan, 1667.

1667. Robert Paterson.

Given by Kennedy under year 1666, but probably succeeded William Paterson in 1667. Teacher of Bajan class, 1670. (Book of Regs.) Present at Rectorial elections, 1673 and 1674. Promoted to the Principalship, p. 28, 20th November, 1678, when he was succeeded by James Lorimer. Paterson was a younger son of John, Bishop of Ross. (Nisbet's Heraldry.) Bajan, 1661.

1673. George Peacock.
Given by Kennedy under year 1675, but seems to have succeeded Gray. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1674. Teacher of Bajan class, 1673-74. (Book of Reg.) Children: James, Mary, Elizabeth. (Poll Book of 1695.) Thos., 1689 (Bodl.), 1693 (Bodl.), 1697 (Glasg.), 1714 (Bodl.). Deprived of office in the political troubles, 1717, when he was succeeded by Patrick Hardie. Bajan, 1664.

1674. John Farquhar.
Given by Kennedy under year 1669, but this is manifestly a blunder, as he succeeded Robert Bruce, probably in 1674. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1675, and (with William Seaton) homologates Paterson's election as Librarian, in May of same year. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Librarian," No. 9.) Minister of Tron Church, Edinburgh, 1677. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1664.

1674. William Seaton.

1675. Robert Farquhar.
Given by Kennedy under year 1676, but signs Charter to Burgh, 9th September, 1675 ("Mortifications," ii., 13). Succeeded John Farquhar. Present at Rectorial elections, 1679 and 1680. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Cullen, 1681 (Scott's Fasti), when he was succeeded by Thomas Burnett. Semi, 1685.

1675. John Patton.
M.A., 1669. Given by Kennedy under year 1676, but signs Charter to Burgh, 1675. Succeeded William Seaton. Present at Rectorial elections in 1679 and 1680. Taught Bajan class, 1680-81. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Leuchel, 1682 (Scott's Fasti), when he was succeeded by Alexander Litster.

In place of Robert Paterson, promoted to be Principal. Lorimer's is the first appointment of a regent recorded in the "Register of presentations and admissiones of all principalles and maistreis". The letter of presentation by George, eighth Earl Marischal, dated 15th January, is engrossed. The appointment is "for this present yeir of God underwritten and yeildie in tyme coming during our pleasure and ay and quhill we shall declar his charge vacant by writ under our own hand and the samen be intimat to him". The admitters are: Principal Robert Paterson, Regents George Peacock, John Patton, Robert Farquhar, Professor Duncan Liddell, Mr. Patrick Sibbald, parson of St. Nicholas, and Mr. Robert Bruce, minister at Old Deer. Bajan, 1679.

1681, October 27. Thomas Burnet, master of airts.

In place of Robert Farquhar, demitted. Promoted to a regency in Edinburgh, 1686, as a reward for representing (in Theses printed at Aberdeen in that year) the Reformation as a villainous rebellion, and asserting that the King of Scotland had the power of making and abrogating laws and imposing taxes without the consent of Parliament. In 1690, because of the very same Theses, he was deprived of his regency by the Commission of Visitation. (Minutes of Commn. in Reg. Ho.; Fountainhall's Decisions; Presbyterian Inquisition in Univ. of Edin.) Bajan, 1679.

1681, October 27. Alexander Litster, student of theologie.

1683, July 25. Robert Keith, student of theologie.

"Son to the deceast doctor William Keith, professor of theologie in Edinburgh." In place of James Lorimer. Theses, 1687, Bodl. For a reference to this Keith, see Fountainhall's Scottish Affairs, p. 248, where he is designated "of Lentosh." Bajan, 1668.

1686, November 1. James Moir, student in divinitie.

1693, December 5. William Smith.

1713, March 2. George Keith.

M.A., 1700. "Son to Sir William Keith of Ludoquairn, baronett." In place of James Moir, lately deceased. Summoned before the Presbytery of 1 Kennedy has a John Keith, under this date, who does not appear in the Register, and Douglas (Peerage, ed. of 1813, II. p. 1941) speaks of a "Professor Thomas Keith of the Marischal College"—equally unknown. See Scottish N. and Q., Jan. 1897.

Aberdeen, 27th Jan., 1714, for adultery with Anne Davidson, a married woman. Refused to appear, and was pronounced contumacious. On 10th November, his name was put on the roll of excommunicated persons. (Presb. Min.) This seems to have entailed loss of his regency.

1715, November 30. William Meston.
M.A., 1698. Late Governor to the honourable Mr. James Keith brother german to the Earle Marischal. In place of George Keith, "lately removed from the said office". Several of the admitters were absent "by reason of the disorders of the times". Meston gave "a publick oration and a specimen in the Greek tongue". Deprived in 1717, he seems never to have actually taught, for in session 1715-16 orb the Collige was separat before the Lawes were read or the season of payment come" (Coll. Proc. Acts., and in 1718, no classes assembled; but in 1720 he obtained from the Town Council payment of salary for period from Whitsunday, 1715, to Martinmas, 1716: £82 10s. Scots. T. C. Reg., p. 85. The notice of Meston in Dict. Nat. Bldg. is incorrect in several details. Cf. the sketch of him (by the present editor) in N. and Q., 7, X., 21, where a bibliography is attempted. Introduced in Allardyce's Balmoral.

1717, Sept. 30. Patrick Hardie.
In place of George Peacock, deprived. The King’s commissions bear that each regent is to hold office "during all the days of his natural life". Hardie died 1724.

1717, September 30. David Verner.
In place of Alexander Moll, deprived. Had studied law in Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow. Created L.L.B. (p. 95), and in 1724 appointed to lecture on law. Theses, 1721 (Westburn, 1732; Glasgow). Died 1752, aged 64. (Aberd. Journal, 28th Jan., 1752; Bower's Life of Balmoral.)

1717, September 30. John Anderson.

1717, September 30. George Cruden.
In place of William Meston, deprived. Died 1725.

1721, April 14. George Turnbull.
In place of John Anderson, deceased. Theses, 1726 (Aberd.). Author of Moral and Christian philosophy, Lond. 1740; Universal law, Lond. 1741; Collection of ancient paintings, Lond. 1744. L.L.D., 1727, in which year he demitted office. See p. 95.

1723, September 6. Thomas Haddow, professor of Greek.
In place of George Cruden, deceased. This is the first mention in the Register of a regent allocated to the teaching of Greek. The Parliamentary Commission of Visitation appointed in 1790 had in 1700 issued an ordinance in the following terms:—

"At Edinburgh, the 16th day of August, 1700 years, the commissioners appointed by act of parliament for visitation of universities, colleges, and schools tak[ing] to their consideration that it would conduce much to the better learning, and for the improvement of the study of the Greek tongue, that the teacher of the same in the first of the four classes in use for Greek and philosophy in each university and college were fixed, and not ambulatory as now he is: do therefore appoint and ordain that hereafter the said teacher of the Greek tongue be fixed, and continue still to teach the same in the said first class to all that shall come to learn under him from year to year, as constant master of the said Greek language, which he is hereby appointed to begin to teach at and after the first day of November through the whole year, until the rising of the class by the ordinary vacation; so that in all that space he is to teach only the Greek grammar and proper Greek authors, without teaching so much as any Structura Syllogismi, or any thing else belonging to the course of philosophy, which is only to be commenced the next year thereafter; and this act and ordinance to take effect after the first of November next. Likewise, for the encouragement of the said fixed teacher of the Greek, it is hereby appointed that no scholar bred at school in Scotland shall be admitted to learn philosophy, or any part of the course thereof, in any of the colleges and universities, unless that he have learned his Greek, at least for the ordinary year under the said fixed Greek master, and report an authentic certificate thereof; and this provision to take effect for and after the year 1700, and no sooner. And for the better executing this act it is farther enacted, that if there be at present any vacancy of any of the four ordinary called masters, or professors, of philosophy in any of the said colleges and universities, the same shall be supplied in the ordinary manner by a fixed Greek master, who is to remain as said is, leaving the other three to proceed with their philosophy classes as usual; and where there is no vacancy, the said fixed Greek master is for this time to be chosen by the faculty that is the master, the professors, and masters of each of the said college and universities, out of the masters, as the said faculty shall determine, which they are hereby ordained to do by the first day of October next. And the Greek master that shall be chosen hereby is ordained to obey without opposition, with this provision nevertheless for his encouragement, that it shall be in his option, upon any vacancy that happens of any of the said four philosophy masters in his college or university, to betake himself to his place without any new trial: in which case the vacancy of the Greek master shall be supplied by one to be fixed as above. And the commission appointed letters and charges to be direct on this act as effect, and that the same be brought with printed and sent to the several universities and colleges, that none may pretend ignorance of.

On 26th February, 1701, the Principal and Regents wrote to the Clerk of the Commission:—"We hereby pay obedience to the Act for settling the Greek Master in the Colleges, and did nominate and elect Master Alexander Moir an of the Regents of this College, to be a fixed Greek Professor in all time coming, who has accepted that office in the College. We therefore intreat ye will represent this matter to the Visitation, when they do take any review of this matter, and show how ready compliance we have given herin.” (Records of Visitation in Gen. Reg. Ho.)

This appointment was sanctioned by the Commission, 14th January, 1702; but it appears not to have become operative, for the Album shows Alexander Moir in charge of the Magistrand class in sessions 1702-3, and 1706-7, as would have been the case under the old four-year cycle. When the four new regents were appointed in 1717, their commissions were in identical terms, but seemingly Cruden (whom Haddow is said to succeed) must soon thereafter have been set aside for the duties of a Greek chair. The admission on 8th Oct., 1717, of Matthew McKaile to the Professorship of Medicine (p. 55) he signs “Geo. Cruden, [philosophiae] P[rofessor]”; but the admission, on 14th April, 1721, of George Turnbull to a regency (p. 40) he signs “Geo. Cruden, [literarum] G[raecarum] P[rofessor]”. If Cruden became Professor of Greek soon after 1717, a three-year cycle would have been set up for the other three Regents. See “Sequence of the Regents,” Appx.

Haddow must have died soon after admission. He held a certificate “of good life and conversation” from Mr. John Cormack, minister of the Gospel, St. Andrews.

In place of Haddow, deceased. Became also Principal in 1748, p. 29.

In place of George Turnbull, demitted. Son of Hugh Duff, minister of Pearn, Ross-shire (Wimberley’s Hosp. of Inves.), and M.A., King’s Coll., 1721. Thes., 1732 (Aberd.).

In 1734 Duff had a lawsuit with his colleague, Thomas Blackwell. On Sunday, 7th January, “betwixt the hours of 2 and 3, in the College Church, during Divine Service, he jostled and pressed violently on Mr. Blackwell”. Next day, when Blackwell was teaching in the Bajan Class, Duff sent William Fowler, sacrist, “to desire him to come out and speak to a gentleman,” and struck him on the head with a staff which he had provided on purpose, “having come without his gown, which he had put off for that effect.” Blackwell presented a “Complaint and Libell unto the Revd. Princip[al] and Masters met in Faculty,” which Duff requested time to answer; but the latter passed from one delay to another, and finally advocated the case to Edinburgh, on the plea that the Masters had no jurisdiction, and that two of their number had malice against him. It was agreed, however, to submit the matter to the Principal and Mr. Forbes, Sheriff Depute of Aberdeen, who settled it by a Decretal-Arbitral. A minute of Faculty was prepared in draft, in which Duff was to acknowledge the jurisdiction of the College, ask pardon for attacking its privileges, and receive a rebuke from the Principal. He was at first fully satisfied with this, and showed much impatience to have a meeting held, where it should be approved; but on this being done he refused to submit, and insisted upon his Bill of Advocation. The outcome of the proceedings has not been traced—(Mem. for Duff, 21st February; Pet. of Duff, 24th February; Ans. for Blackwell, 25th February; Ans. for Prin. and other Masters, 23rd July—printed papers in Town House Charter Room).

At a meeting of Faculty, held on 9th February, 1730, Duff is charged with neglect of duty and "with quarrelling upon slight and trivial occasions with one Master after the other, and raising litigious and expensive lawsuits, and with instigating the students to illegal and hurtful proceedings and un dutiful conduct to their masters". At Christmas vacation he had to go to Edinburgh, and did not return till 6th January (the vacation ending on the 1st); neglected his duty as Hebdomader; refused to preside at the public disputes; and on 3rd February again went to Edinburgh, appointing an assistant without asking leave of the College. Blackwell states that he had raised criminal actions against all his colleagues, and calls him "that strange unhappy man".

1st March, 1730. Duff protests in violent language, styling the minute of 9th February "a pretended calumnious unsigned libel," of which a copy was refused him.

10th March, 1730. At a Rectorial meeting the Principal informs the Court that he has, with advice and consent of the faculty, given to Regent Duff two admonitions for neglect of duty and other irregularities. The Courtauthorize the Principal to give him forthwith the third and last admonition, in terms of the Foundation Charter.

At subsequent meetings evidence is given of Duff's non-attendance at College for two years; Drs. Campbell and Glicenie, then students, being among the witnesses. On 26th January, 1730, sentence of expulsion is formally pronounced, Duff being "extruded forth and from the said University and Marischal College, and his said office and employment declared void and vacant and at his Majesty's gift and disposal as patron of the aforesaid University".

Duff went to London, where he published "The Case of William Duff, Professor of Philosophy in the Marischal University of Aberdeen, Denying the Barbarous Treatment of an Honest Family, 1730; and A History of Scotland, Vol. I. (all pubd.) 1750 (with author's portrait).

1729, Novemb. 25. Dr. Matthew McKail.

Previously Professor of Medicine. p. 55. In place of Daniel Gordon, deceased. Some objection seems to have been taken to the admission of McKail, as only three admitters sign. He delivers a discourse "On the connexion and difference between the atomic or Copernican and the Newtonian philosophy". Died 1733.

1734, March 26. Francis Skene.

Son of George Skene, minister of Kinkell—Skene Memoir.—M.A. King's
In place of McKail, on whose death it had been proposed to revert to the plan of the Founder, and assign the three higher classes to particular masters, Verney to take the semis, Duff the magistrands, and McKail's successor the tertians. But Skene petitioned against this (Min. of 28th June), and his objections were sustained. When the new plan was adopted in 1753, he was assigned the Semi Class. J. & D., 1766, when he is also made "Professor of Laws" (cf. Min. of 26th Nov., 1760). Died 1775. Portrait in possession of University.

April 10. Alexander Innes.

Great grandson of David Gregory of Kinnairdie (Off. and Grad., p. 37). M.A., 1733. Had acted as substitute during William Duff's absence, sessions 1736-7, 1737-8, 1738-9. After Duff's deposition on 20th January, 1738, the Rector, Principal and Masters appear to have pressed Innes' claims on the Chancellor, Lord Hay, but without effect until January, 1739, when he recommends them to apply to the Duke of Newcastle. This they do, 19th January, calling his attention to "the melancholy situation of our College"; but at the same time resolve "to fix a Program to the College and kirk doors [cf. Vol. I., p. 15] within a few days in order to secure their privileges". The Duke "making farther delays and offsets," they resolve, 2nd March, to act on the program, and seek the concurrence of the Magistrates in case the election should be called in question. On 19th March, the edict is duly "called," but no candidates appear, and they intimate to Lord Hay that they have put off the election till 10th April, hoping to hear from him. On that day, having no letter, they elect Mr. Innes. It is claimed that this is competent, from there having been no presentation notified, although a year had elapsed since the vacancy had been intimated to the Crown, from no answer to letters having been received, from the loss sustained by the College in wanting a Regent, and from the terms of the Foundation Charter. Lord Hay writes on 23rd April that he had received the communication of 7th March on 20th April. "It seems instead of sending it by the Post, it came by somebody who took France in his way." He chides the Faculty for not transmitting to Government a regular copy of the proceedings against Duff, wonders "a learned body did not better apprehend the meaning of such notification," and send the causes of deposition, instead of writing "in no other style than if Duff had been dead." The Crown ought to have known the whole, as a mark of respect, the office being one for life. Duff, he adds, "has been a considerable time about town making a noise in all the offices and in every place where he could have access." After this scolding, Lord Hay becomes kinder, and says that he has taken their part, and told everybody that "Duff's long stay in this London and the unaccountable turn of his temper made it highly probable that the Faculty had done nothing but justice." Blackwell's reply is a humble palinode, requesting a presentation for Innes. It does not appear that this was ever sent.

We learn from a Memorial to the Barons of the Exchequer that Innes "was so generous as to permit the emoluments of the class [1736-39] to go to the support of Mr. Duff's unhappy relinquished family." He died in 1742.
1742, Sept. 9. David Pordyce.

The second of Provost George Pordyce's twenty children, and through his mother a relative of Principal Blackwell. M.A., 1728. Preacher of the gospel; no parish. Was recommended by the College to the Crown, in place of Innes. In 1750 got leave of absence and visited Rome: in returning, 1751, was drowned off the coast of Holland. Portrait at Oldquay Castle. Author of Dialogues concerning education, Lond., 1745; Theodoras, 1752; Moral philosophy, Lond., 1754; Temple of virtue, Lond., 1757; British letter writer, Lond., 1790. (Dingwall Pordyce Earr. A7w.)

Son of deceased Gilbert Gerard, minister of Chapel of Garioch. M.A., 1744. Commission dated 15th May. In place of Pordyce, for whom he had acted as substitute, sessions 1750-1 and 1751-2. Demitted 1760, on becoming Professor of Divinity and minister of Greyfriars. D.D., King's Coll., 1761. Moderator of General Assembly, 1764. Professor of Divinity, King's Coll., 1771. Died 1785. Was instrumental in bringing about the fixing of the Classes in 1753. In 1755 his Plan of Education in the Marischal Coll. and University of Aberdeen, with the reasons of it, was printed by order of the Faculty. - German translation pubd. at Riga, 1770. See also George Kerr's Examination of a pamphlet entitled 'Plan of Education, etc.,' Aberd., 1826. His other works are well known. Married, 14th June, 1757, Jean Wight, with issue: Margaret, John, Jane, and Margaret Helen. James Cruickshank of Payley Park. Portrait in possession of University. Together with James Beattie, George Campbell, John Gregory, Thomas Reid, and David Skene, founded the Philosophical Society of Aberdeen. (See Macmillan's Mag., for Sept., 1803.)

1753, Aug. 21. William Duncan.

In place of Verner. Son of deceased William Duncan of Atrocho. M.A., 1735. Had attended some divinity classes, but became a professional author in London. Commission dated, like Gerard's, 15th May, 1752, but on 1st Nov., certified by two physicians to be unable to undertake the journey to Aberdeen, and David Burn, preacher of the Gospel, appointed to conduct his class. Drowned while bathing, 13th May, 1760. Author of Logic in Dodsley's 'Preceptor'), Lond., 1748, etc.; Caesar's Commentaries, trans., Lond., 1753, etc.; Discourse on Roman art of war, Lond., 1755; editions of Greek New Test. and Ainsworth's Latin Dictionary; Cicero's Select Orations, trans., Lond., 1771; also probably of Vol. II. of Watson's Homer, and of several translations from the French. (Biog. sketch, not very accurate, in Scottish Register, Vol. I.)

By minute of Senatus, of date 11th January, 1753, the subjects and classes had been fixed as follows: - Francis Skene, professor of Civil and Natural History (seminis).

William Duncan, professor of Natural Philosophy (tertians).

A programme of the classes as thus arranged appeared in the Aberdeen Journal of 2nd Oct. The King's College professors, while adopting the altered sequence of subjects, adhered to the old system of circulating regents. This, it is understood, was due to the authority of Dr. Thomas Reid, who gave it a decided preference. The grounds on which so enlightened a teacher defended a practice that once extensively prevailed are interesting. The minutes embodying them are quoted in the present editor's Arts Curriculum, Aberd., 1892, p. 13. See also Abstract of some orders and statutes of King's College, Aberd., 1753.

1758, March 7. William Kennedy, professor of Greek.

In place of Blackwell. Son of the Rev. Hugh Kennedy, one of the ministers of the Scots Church, Rotterdam. M.A., 1754. Student of divinity. Died 14th November, 1782.

In place of Gerard. Son of James Beattie, farmer, Laurencekirk. First bursar, 1749; M.A., 1753; LL.D., King's Coll., 1770; D.C.L., Oxon., 1773. Married, 28th June, 1767. Mary Dun, with issue: James Hay (infra), and Montagu. Died 18th Aug., 1803. His numerous writings are well known, the only one explicitly for the use of his students being Scoticisms, Aberd., 1778. Portrait (in the allegorical painting by Sir Joshua Reynolds), in the possession of the University, reproduced in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll., and in this volume. (Bower's Life; Forbes' Life; Dict. Nat. Biog.; Sir W. D. Geddes' Poetic ideals of education.)

In place of Duncan. Son of Regent Francis Skene (infra). M.A., 1755; M.D. Married, 26th October, 1766, Margaret, daughter of Charles Gordon of Abergeldie, with issue: John, Francis, Amelia (m. Capt. Edmund Filmer), Mary, Charles (Prof. of Medicine, infra), Mary Anne, Elizabeth, Margaret (m. Arthur Anderson of Dyebank, now Newton Dee), Andrew, William, Alison. Succeeded his father as professor of civil and natural history, 1775.

1775. George Skene, professor of civil and natural history.

This transference is not entered in the Reg. of Pros. Demitted office 1788, and died 25th March, 1803. Portrait in possession of University.

In place of George Skene, transferred, whom he had assisted during session 1774-75. Son of Rev. Samuel Copland, D.D., minister of Fintray. M.A., 1766. Appointed Professor of Mathematics, 1779, but taught that subject in reality for only one session. See 1817, infra.

In place of Copland, transferred. Son of Gavin Hamilton, bookseller, and grandson of Principal William Hamilton, Edinburgh. Rector of Perth Academy. LL.D., Edin., 1775. Exchanged duties with Copland in 1780, but not until 1817 formally appointed Professor of Mathematics, p. 54.

In place of Kennedy, for whom he had acted as substitute, 1781-2. Son of John Stuart of Inchbreek. Alumnus, 1767. Studied Law and Divinity. Married, 26th April, 1787, Margaret, daughter of George Mowatt, merchant, Aberdeen, with issue: John, Marjory, Mary, George Andrew, Alexander, Charles. Died 27th August, 1827. Taught in part from 1815, and wholly from 1818, by deputies, viz.:

1820-22. Robert Reid.
1822-23. Robert Reid and Robert Machray.
1824-27. Robert Reid.

Stuart was author of Life of Dr. Duncan Liddel, Aberd., 17111, repr. in Aberdeen Mag., 1796; "Marischal College" in Sinclair's Statistical Min., Vol. 21, Edinb., 1799; Essays, chiefly on Scottish Antiquities, Aberd., 1840. Portrait by John Moir in possession of Aberdeen Medico-Chirurgical Society, which he helped to found. (Life prefixed to Essays.)

Appointed assistant and successor to his father, the preamble of the Commission citing "the advanced period of life of James Beattie". M.A., 1786. Died 19th Nov., 1790. Author of Essays and fragments, Edin., 1791; Sylloge of Versification, Aberd., 1795; Miscellanies, Lond., 1794. Life by his father, 1792; portrait engraved, 1801. First winner of the Silver Pen.

1788, May 10. William Morgan, professor of civil and natural history.

In place of George Skene. Son of George Morgan. Late rector of Kingston, Jamaica. D.D., King's Coll., 1780. Married to Martha Jnpping, with issue (alive at his admission), James Gordon. Died 2nd Sept., so that he never taught.

Assistant and successor "on account of the advanced period of life" of Dr. James Beattie. Son of Dr. John Glennie, minister of Maryculter. M.A., 1786. Entered on the full charge when Dr. Beattie died in 1803. One of 1 William in Knight's MS. The name is not minuted.

ministers of Aberdeen, in conjunction, from 1813. D.D., 1816. Married, 4th July, 1717, Margaret Valentine, niece of Dr. Beattie, with issue: Jane m. Professor William Knight; James Beattie, Mary m. Professor Patrick Forbes of King's College. Margaret d. in nine days; Margaret, John, George, Helen. Died 9th November, 1815. Had latterly taught by deputies: — 1818, James Duirs, M.A.

1841-45, Alexander Bain, M.A., 1840, afterwards Prof. of Logic in the University of Aberdeen.
1844, Rev. William K. Pirie, Prof. of Divinity.
1845, William Fraser, alumnus of Edinburgh.

1811 (? Robert Kenny.
In place of James Beattie, younger. Minister of Kilsyth. D.D., 1808. Unanimously recommended by the Faculty, 23rd Nov., 1810, and duly gazetted to the post, but on 2nd April, 1811, wrote that, "owing to unforeseen and peculiar circumstances originating in the present perplexed state of commercial credit in that part of the country where he now resides, which prevent him from arranging his private affairs, so as to enable him in due time to assume and discharge the office to which he had been appointed, he had thought it expedient to intimate his resignation to the Faculty". (Min. of 10th April.) On 6th May, the Faculty recommend Dr. James Davidson by the casting vote of the Principal, four members voting for William Knight, who had conducted the classes, by appointment of the Faculty, during session 1810-11.

1811, July 1. James Davidson, professor of civil and natural history.

In place of Hamilton, demitted. Copland and Hamilton had with the approval of the Faculty and Magistrates exchanged their duties on 16th Nov., 1780, but the formal exchange of chairs was only now made. When the exchange was arranged in 1780, the Faculty recommended to the Crown the joint appointment of Professor Copland's son, John, as assistant and successor to his father; but this was found incompetent. Copland was made LL.D., 1787, 27th June, 1787. He married, 27th Sept., 1787, Elizabeth Ogilvie, with issue: Alexander, John, Charles, Mary m. Alexander Murchison, M.D. Died 16th Nov., 1822. His collection of apparatus purchased for 700 guineas by the college. (Knight's MSS., quoted in Scot. N. and Q., 1, 124.)

PROFESSORS OF CHEMISTRY.

Dingwall Fordyce FAM. HIST.

M.D., Glasg., 1831. This appointment caused much dissension. By Mrs. Blackwell's deed of Foundation the Principal and professors were directed to fill up vacancies by a comparative trial of candidates, but on 21st Sept., 1827, the Commissioners of 1826 expressed doubt as to the right of the principal and professors to nominate, and directed them, in the event of a vacancy therein, to intimate the same to the Commission if then in force. Intimation was sent to the Secretary, but the Commissioners proved to have transmitted their final report, and the faculty accordingly advertised the vacancy, and examiners were selected: Professor Thomson, Glasgow; Rev. A. J. Forsyth, Belhelvie; Professors Davidson, Skene, and Knight. Three candidates appeared: Thomas Clark, William Henderson, M.A., M.D. (who had acted as assistant to Professor French, and was afterwards Lecturer on Materia Medica, and William Laing, M.A., M.D. (afterwards Lecturer on Surgery). It was, however, objected that Clark being only M.D., had not undergone the "regular academical education" required by the "deed of foundation," and his admission as a candidate was carried only by the casting vote of the Principal; Professors Black, Glennie, Knight and Brown voting against him. Prof. Knight thereupon declined to act as Examiner. On the conclusion of the examination, which lasted for three days, the examiners reported unanimously in favour of Clark. (Lengthy Minutes, 20th Aug., to 12th Nov., printed in Appx. to Second Report of 1836-37 Commissioners, pp. 212-220.) In session 1842-43, Clark's health gave way, and, excepting a few

1 "Marischal College, 3rd April, 1818.

“It being suggested to the Faculty that a Medical School on an extended plan, and under the patronage of both Universities, might now be established; they unanimously approve of the measure, and desire their Clerk to write a letter to the Principal and Professors of King’s College, requesting a meeting with them, to take the proposal into consideration and, if approved of, to take the necessary steps for carrying it into effect.”

"Marischal College, 16th May, 1818.

“The Report of the Committee of both Colleges relative to the appointment of Medical Lecturers having been laid before the Faculty and read, they unanimously approve of the same and order it to be recorded in their minutes, whereof the tenor follows:—

“Aberdeen, Mar. 10, 1818. At a Meeting of the Committees of King’s and Marischal Colleges, to arrange a plan for the establishment of a Medical School, held at Marischal College, 16th May, the following regulations were suggested, as most consistent with the constitution of the Colleges, and best adapted to promote the institution, which, under the joint patronage of the two Universities, may attain a greater character, and be more extensively useful, than it could if only supported by one of them.

1. Both Universities to have equal power over the Medical School.

2. Courses of Lectures to be given, during the Winter Session, on the following subjects: Anatomy, Animal Economy, Surgery, Practice of Physic, Theory of Physic, Materia Medica, Clinical Medicine, and Midwifery, and a course of Lectures on Botany during the Summer.

3. Lecturers on these subjects to be appointed or confirmed before the ensuing Session, or when the state of the School shall be thought to require this nomination.

4. As the appointment of the Lecturers by a general meeting of both Colleges, having no corporate capacity, might not be deemed valid by the separate Faculties, it is proposed that the nomination to the Lectureships shall belong alternately to each, neither appointing twice successively to the same Lectureship, and that the appointment thus made by one College shall be confirmed by the other; both faculties entering a regulation in their minutes, binding themselves to this mode of alternate nomination and mutual confirmation.

5. Lecturers having been named by Marischal College on Anatomy, Surgery, and Materia Medica, before the present plan of joint patronage was thought of, it is recommended that these appointments should in the meantime be confirmed by King’s College, and that the first nomination to the vacant Lectureships should proceed from the Faculty of King's College, and be confirmed by Marischal College.

"6. In case the Professors of Medicine of the College should at any time wish to give Courses of Lectures, it will be advisable to reserve the Theory and Practice of Physic for them, the choice of either subject being with the Professor that he undertakes the duty of lecturing. The appointment of Lecturers on these subjects may therefore be considered as ad interim.

"7. Should any of the Lecturers allow a Session to pass without giving a regular Course, his appointment is to be declared void, unless he shall have been prevented from doing so by bad health, or such reasons as may be deemed satisfactory by the College with which the next nomination to his Lectureship lies.

"8. After the first nominations, when a vacancy is to be supplied in any of the established Courses, the College whose turn it is shall appoint a Lecturer within six months after the vacancy has occurred; two meetings of the Faculty having been held, at a month's interval, to consider the best mode of supplying it, and the claims of different candidates.

"9. To facilitate the arrangements necessary in opening and conducting the different Courses, it is recommended that a Standing Committee be appointed by each of the Faculties, to cooperate in superintending and promoting the objects of the Institution, and that a Report of the state of the Medical School be made at least once a year, by this Joint Committee, to a General Meeting of the Faculties of both Universities."

   Confirmed by King's Coll., 16th Apr. "1834, March 15. Some of Dr.
   Ewing's students prosecute him before the Sheriff for £8 6s. 8d. damage in bilking them of 1/4 of a course of surgery. He began Nov. 4 and their ruling, which he mistook for applause, made him end 12 March, giving only 58 meetings, of which only 41 available in a certificate, 17 being examinations. He had been absent 27 times, besides raising his fee from 2 to 3 guineas. The action before Sheriff Watson amuses the public and frightens him; he resumes teaching, gets the Principal to go with him to his class, where Dewar blames him in his own presence. In April he terminates, turns restive, and sends long letters to the Senatus, wishing to know whether they account his course complete now: to which such answers as they deserved were sent.
   Dr. Ewing's class had been most disorderly, a subject being sometimes placed in the desk" (Knight.) Demitted 21 Aug., 1834.

1839, Sept. 3. William Henderson: lecturer on Materia Medica in Marischal College.

On 4th October, 1838, the Senatus of King's College declined to consent to the appearance of the advertisement of the classes of the Joint Medical School which had been annually sanctioned for the twelve preceding years. This refusal was mainly based on the contention that the King's College Senatus should have been consulted as to the amount of accommodation allotted to Medical Classes in the new buildings of Marischal College, in terms of Article 10 in the agreement entered into by the Universities in 1818, as recorded in the Minutes of King's College, on 6th July of that year, viz. -

"10. An equal number of classes to be taught at each University, if required, and deemed expedient by either. In the mean time, as a room has been built at Marischal College for the Anatomical Lectures, and as great difficulties attending the due supply of preparations, etc., would be increased, by changing the place of teaching, the Anatomical Course may be given at Marischal College, the other Courses at King's or Marischal Colleges, as may be agreed on by the Committee.

This entry did not appear in the corresponding Marischal College Minute of 30th May, 1849, but was duly intimated by King's College to the Commissioners of 30th June, "Resolutions, IV., 1849.

On 20th November, 1848, Mar. Coll. resolved to require of King's Coll., "whether they possess any original paper from which the regulations, in their minute of 6th July, 1847, were copied." King's Coll. not unnaturally resisted this request, as equivalent to demanding a proof that their records "had not been vitiated." A copy of the latter regulations in the hand-writing of Dr. Skene was produced by King's Coll.; but only two gentlemen who had a share in the business of this Marischal University in 1848 are now alive, and their recollections do not supply any information respecting the tenth article.

On 17th April, 1849, the King's Coll. Senate unanimously resolved "that all connection with the Marischal College in reference to the Medical School shall cease from and after the close of the Session," it being "inexpedient and even dangerous to maintain any further intercourse with Marischal College respecting the Medical School, when the letter and spirit of the original agreement have been so palpably violated." The Mar. Coll. Senate, while denying "the allegation that they have violated either the letter or the spirit of the original agreement," and finding "a much nearer resemblance to a violation of that agreement in the refusal by members of King's College to its Senate to sanction the usual advertisement of the Medical Classes," unanimously resolved, on 11th July, "that the agreement entered into by the two Colleges in 1847 in regard to the Medical School and all the arrangements depending upon that agreement are terminated." Extracts from these Records were quoted by both Colleges.

In 1687, Main is designated Sacrist. A year after he was appointed Janitor, we find him mortifying some house property towards the support of a bursar of his own kin, the augmentation of the salaries of the Principal

John Davidson appears, 1688-1720, as "porter," a term now used to denote the sacrist's subordinate: so Alexander Brebner, under-porter, 1706-20, and porter, 1720-17; John Gibb, porter, 1747-53. Other under-porters were:
James Walker, 1701; Peter Robertson, 1713; James Silver, 1730; Samuel Duncan, 1744.

1719. William Fowler.
   Died 1755.

¹ This term does not occur in the Foundation Charter, but every student is directed to pay two shillings yearly to the "communs apparitor" or "bedellus."
1753, April 10. John Gibb.
Died 1788. See an amusing elegy in Caladanum Mag., March, 1789.

Robert Duncan, porter 1753-54; John Arthur, porter 1784-88.

Died 1808. George Pirie, porter 1788-1808. Election of sacrist and porter in future to be annual.

MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY
GRADUATES OF MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY.

DOCTORS OF DIVINITY.

1724. —— Calder. ²
So Knight; but the entry in the Accounts, "Parchment for Mr Calder's diploma 12/-," does not seem necessarily to indicate a degree in divinity.

1733. "Price of a Doctor of Divinity gifted to the College by Principal Osborn £20 st." The graduate was "an English Divine".

1736. Philip Doddridge.
The well-known Dissenting minister, Northampton, author of Hymns and various theological works. (Diploma voucher of 27th May: "paid for writing, parchment and a box £4 8s.") He had D.D. from King's College, 5th July, 1737, and observes: "I am just going to write a letter of thanks to the College at Old Aberdeen, who, that my name may not be at all

"Omnibus et Singulis Quorum Interest S."
"Quom omnis generis honores eum in finem et primo inventi et postea conlati fuerint, ut ingenia hominum excitarent, et bene de Republica seu consulendo seu agendo mentis laborum suorum fructum aliquid rederent: Nos, Gymnasiarcha et Professores Universitatis Marischallanae Abredonensis, quibus praetera in literas merita remari [sic] atque inventa remunerarier solenne semper fuit, pro comperto habentes, virum primum et probum A. B. magnus in sacris litteris progressus facisse, eisque praeditum esse moribus qui virum primum et probum deceant et ornent: Propterea, nos supradictum A. B. ornare, qua potissim est, volentes, honribus nostris summis academicis dignum cessimus, atque eundem Sacrosanctae Theologiae Doctorem creavimus et constituimus, sicut per has praeventes doctoratus literas creavimus omnibus ubique honorum artium studiosis obnixse commendandat habemus ut eum humanior ampliust et bene movevera dignaret. Quam gratiam oblatas animi libentes et ex animo bene faciendo reddimus, nos qui chirographis nostris publicoque universitatis sigillo diploma hisce muniantur curvatis.

affected in the dispute between them and the new College about the right of conferring degrees, have also sent me a diploma". (Corresp., III., 275.)

1736. John Milner.
Dissenting minister, London; author of many works.

Abraham Taylor.
Dissenting minister, Deptford. (Diploma voucher of 31st July.)

Alexander Cruden (of the Concordance, then a bookseller in London: see Vol. I., p. 444) writes 5th Aug., 1736, to Principal Osborn,

"I received on the 2d current, Mr Milner's Diploma with a Letter from Mr Verner to Dr Anderson and self. The Doctor has prevailed so far as to get £15 for the Diploma, which I received yesterday, and he thinks he deserves for this and all his good services a Couple of Pieces, and had a sort of a promise from me to write you so much... Dr. Doddridge was lately in Town and he gave me five Guineas as an Acknowledgment for his Diploma. I suggested to him pretty plainly that it was too little, but he said that he had a great Family, etc., and this was all I could get from him. Please to let me know whether I shall remit these five Guineas, or if you have occasion to lay it out here. Dr Doddridge has promised to be a friend to your College. He has ordered me to bind 3 or 4 Volumes of his Sermons in a very handsome manner for your Library, which I propose to send by C. Keith. I sent down an Attestation of the Revd. Mr Abraham Taylor of Deptford, to obtain the Degree of D.D. from you and the College. It is unknown to him. I will engage that he is worthy of it, for he exceeds all the Dissenting Ministers of my acquaintance for Learning, and his character is every way entire. He has been Author of several things, particularly 2 vol. in 8vo. against Arianism. It is designed that a Diploma shall be obtained for Mr Taylor in one or other University. I hope no further Delay will be made in this affair. I daresay he will make a much more handsome Remembrance to the University than Dr Doddridge has done." (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Correspondence, 3").

Vicar of New Church, Isle of Wight. Author of Sermons, Lond., 1764, etc.
The original attestation in his favour has been preserved:—

DOCTORS OF DIVINITY.

1745. Nathaniel Lardner.

Dissenting theologian, and writer. "The beginning of the year, by the cordial and unanimous signature of the Marischal College of Aberdeen he was honoured with the degree of Doctor in Divinity, an honour which, though he thought it improper to solicit, he judged it his duty to accept, when offered in so very obliging a manner. In his reflections on it he says:—'I pray God I may not be elevated by any acceptance of my labours meet with, but that I may proceed with humility, diligence and integrity in the whole of my life'." Lectures on Esther, Discourses, etc.

Professor Blackie dissented from the resolution to confer these three degrees, proposed by Rev. Professor Pirie. On 16th Feb., he had given notice of a motion "that no person shall receive a degree of D.D. or LL.D. in this University who does not possess decided eminence and excellence of a distinctly scientific and literary character, as distinguished from mere popular qualifications and social respectability, or excellence of any kind not properly aca­ demical". This intimation, however, was withdrawn, 23rd Feb., on the appointment of a Committee to consider the question. The Committee seems never to have reported on D.D.

"Att the Marischall College of Aberdeen, May 31st, 1743.
"The Faculty being duly and met and constitute, compareed Mr James Catanach, advocate in Aberdeen, and applied to them desiring that he might be admitted to the tryall and examination of his qualifications as Candidate for the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University, and, if found qualified, craved that he might be honoured with that degree; Which request the Faculty finding highly reasonable, and from their personal acquaintance with him being fully satisfied of his moral character, he was examined and tried accordingly by Dr. Verner by the appointment of the Faculty, and being found truly well qualified in a strict examination, the Faculty unanimously agreed to create the said Mr. Janus Catanach Doctor of Laws, and appointed the diploma for the said degree to be forthwith extended in due form and signed and sealed.”

This degree was conferred for a special purpose, and its validity formed the subject of an important decision by the House of Lords. (Vol. I., pp. 69, 70).

to confer upon me. I embrace with so deep and just a sense of their goodness the substance of that honour they do me, that I hope it may plead my pardon with them if I do not accept the form. I have been, Sir, for several years a member of the University of Cambridge, and formerly (when I had some thoughts of the profession) took a Bachelor of Laws degree there; since that time, tho' long qualified by my standing, I have always neglected to finish my course, and claim my Doctor's degree. Judge, therefore, whether it will not look a slight, and some sort of contempt, if I receive the same degree from a Sister University. I certainly would avoid giving any offence to a set of men, among whom I have passed so many easy, and I may say, happy hours of my life; yet shall ever retain in my memory the obligations you have laid me under, and be proud of my connection with the University of Aberdeen."

(Mason's Memoir of Gray, 1775, p. 318.)

Ph.D. and F.R.S. Author of various Scientific Papers. Rec. by Professor Clark.

On this date the Senatus approved the following Report submitted by a Committee appointed, 23rd February, to consider "whether by any change in the present system the interests of Literature and Science can be benefited" (supra, p. 93):

"The Committee having considered the whole subject and reasoned at length thereon, were unanimously of opinion:—

1. That any resolutions on this subject ought not to prejudge the claims of parties who have already left College, or who may be entitled to degrees under the general principles hitherto in operation.

2. That no higher degree should hereafter be granted to any one who has not previously taken the degree of M.A. under examination, unless in the case of parties who have attained high and acknowledged eminence in Classical Literature, Science or Theology."

M.A. Clergyman, Cheltenham. Author of Peden the Prophet, 1859, and many religious works. Rec. by Drs. S. Hanna and John Morison. 1 "There were probably no degrees granted till after 1700 and the appointment of a Professor of Medicine. Attestations from two or three physicians continued to be the practice for a long time. Cases, &c., sent to the candidate for solution, in several instances. No certain account of theses being written or required [See 1784, 1791, 1820] ... Till 1794, Nov. 20, the diploma was granted in the name of the Professor of Medicine, the rest signing it. Professor Stuart introduced a new form in the name of the Principal and Professors." (Knight.)

The names of the earlier graduates were taken by Professor Knight from entries of payments for medical degrees in the College Accounts. It seems not unlikely that certain other payments, not explicitly for medical degrees, were really made by M.D.’s. Thus Mr. Matthew Mackaile (M.A., 1708, and Professor of Medicine in 1717) pays £1 in 1711 "for diploma"; and in the same year Mr. Gilbert Cuming, and his brother Mr. George Cuming, pay £30 10s. "for diplomas". So in 1713, Mr. Alex. Lawson; in 1714, Mr. John Anderson, Mr. William Duguid, and Dr. Chalmers’ son; and in 1715, Mr. John Irvin. See all these entries quoted infra, under "Graduates in Arts".

The form of diploma used by Professor James Gordon (1734-55) ran as follows. The entries in square brackets are amendments introduced (by Professor Beattie) for Professor Alexander Donaldson (1755-93).

"Quam nos antiquas et Laudabilis semper existirid [fuerit] ut qui multos suadibus indefessi laboris [multo labore] studiisque assiduo literis operam navaverint insigni aliqua et eximio honoris titulo tanquam peracti laboris monumento et clarissimae virtutis praemiio dignarentur, ut sequentium secularum progenies horum exemplo affecta ad perseverandas arduas quidem sed pulchras eruditionis ac virtutis vias stimulentur; quorumque Nobis satis superque commertum sit Dominus A. B. non solum studiis medicis maxima cum laude per complures annos incubaisses et in eisdem maximos progressus factus fecisses, sed et etiam in omnibus medicinae (III)

Robert Walker.

By Drs. Schomberg and Wessels. This man afterwards advertised, under the Royal Patent, the Medicine called Walker's Specific Drops or Elixir. On the first notice of this I wrote Dr. Schomberg, a most eminent physician in London, and Dr. Wessels, who, although a little doubtful in regard to nostrums, was in a great degree of credit as a physician in London. I had not, nor could have, redress from either.

William Frazier.

Drs. Middleton and Ross, both eminent physicians in London. [Army; served in America.]

Drs. Cole and Wessels. N.B. At this time I received the intelligence with respect to Dr. Walker, and wrote him [Dr. Wessels] that his certificate would not be received in future. In answer, he informed me that he had given a preference to our University, and would not again apply. See a letter from him among my papers. [M. Corp. S. Tooley Street, Lond. Contrib. to Med. Obs. and Inq., Vol. V.]

[William, Boddum [sic] of Mecklenbergh-Steritz.
Drs. Saunders and Leo. N.B. Discovered to be the fake Boddum by inattention of Dr. Leo. Dr. Saunders told me that he was deceived by Dr. Leo, a Jew living in his neighbourhood, with regard to Boddum on his first arrival in London. I believe there was no great deception in the case. At least Dr. S. appeared to have given himself no trouble in making the necessary examination before granting the certificate, wishing to oblige the Jew, and caring very little for the reputation of Marischal College. C. S.

[In 1801, Boddum applied for a new diploma, saying he had lost his former one. The College denied that any one had been granted him, the name being Boddum in Dr. Donaldson's Catalogue. He recovered his diploma, however, and sent it to Mr. Chalmers, printer, his quack medium even, when the College had the mortification to see the name properly written, and the diploma perfectly regular. The opinion of Solicitor-General Blair was taken as to the power of the College to degrade Boddum for "notorious and impudent quackery, . . . and the immoral tendency of many passages in his various publications". Mr. Blair held it "to be clear that an Incorporation has by law no power to expel its own members. For altho' the admission of a member most commonly proceeds upon an act of the incorporated body, yet after being so admitted, the privileges which he thereby acquires become a matter of civil right or property which cannot be taken from him, except upon legal grounds and by the sentence of a competent Court. Universities stand indeed upon a footing somewhat different from other Incorporations, in so far as the original constitution of the University, whether created by foundation charter or otherwise, most commonly delegates to the Rector or some other officebearer in the University a jurisdiction over its own members, which implies a power of expulsion where there is sufficient cause for it. And the foundation charter of the Marischal College of Aberdeen seems to bestow upon the Rector a power of jurisdiction sufficiently ample for this purpose. Altho' it is rather an unfavourable circumstance that no one instance can be found of the rectoral jurisdiction having been exercised to the effect of recalling the degree of Doctor of Medicine once bestowed, either in the University of Aberdeen, or in those of Edinburgh or St. Andrews, which are expressly referred to in the charter. . . . The distinction between a Quack, that is to say a person who takes it upon him to practise physick without having received a proper education and without being graduated Doctor of Medicine, and a regular Physician who has been bred to the business and authorised to practise, is very well known. But amongst those who have received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from an University entitled to grant such degrees (which is the case of Dr. Brodum), I do not know exactly where the line is to be drawn, or what degree of ostentation or ignorance is to fix upon a gentleman of this description the imputation of Quackery, so as to afford a legal ground for depriving him of his degree. . . . The memorialists will consider therefore whether, under all the circumstances, it may not be most prudent for them to submit in silence as they have hitherto done, to a very unpleasant mortification, and rather endeavour if possible to draw good out of evil, by making the case of Dr. Brodum a lesson of caution and circumspection to themselves for the future, in the bestowing Academical honours." [The Faculty having heard the report of Dr. Livingston and Dr. French respecting the medical qualifications of Mr. John Brine, a candidate for the degree of M.D., whom they had examined in private, agree that he should be again examined by Dr. Livingston and Dr. French from North Academies.]

The Faculty agree that a new diploma should be granted to James Shaw, M.D. (Mof.)
Mr. Brine was accordingly introduced and examined on the various branches of Medicine and Chemistry, and showed such knowledge of these subjects as was perfectly satisfactory to the meeting. The Senatus Academicus, therefore, upon his producing certificates of his moral as well as medical character from two respectable Physicians in London [Drs. Babington and Currie], agreed to admit him to the degree of M.D." (Min. of 10th May.) M.R.C.S.

On 15th April the following regulations were adopted (printed in 1810). They remained in force till 1823:

"Regulations with respect to the mode of conferring Medical Degrees.

1. No person shall be received as a candidate for the degree of M.D. unless he have laid before the Senatus Academicus satisfactory evidence of his possessing a good and respectable character, and of his having received a liberal education.

2. No person shall be received as a candidate for the degree already mentioned until he have produced to the Senatus Academicus certificates of his having attended a course of lectures in Anatomy, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Practice of Physic and Botany (if he has had an opportunity of studying the branch last mentioned) at some University or celebrated School, under Professors or Teachers of reputation.

3. In every case where the candidate for a degree in Medicine shall happen to be in Aberdeen or at a convenient distance from that city, he shall be required to appear before the Senatus Academicus, and in their presence he examined by the Medical and other professors.
that the application had taken place before the certifiers could be made acquainted with the regulations." (Min.)

"IV. When the candidate for a degree in Medicine is recommended, his distance from Aberdeen is not to exceed one hundred miles, and he shall be recommended and attested by two Physicians. In the case of the candidate being himself a graduate in Medicine, he shall recommend and attest to the Professor of Medicine, or to some of the members of the Faculty, that he has been examined and has obtained the degree of M.D. Or in cases where, for distance of place, examination cannot be obtained, that they have been long personally acquainted with, and on account of his medical education are such as are above specified, that he has been for a long time established in a place, and in that capacity has rendered himself useful and respectable.

"V. When the candidate has been called for examination, either at Aberdeen or the sitting places, the attestation shall be made, in the most ample manner, for the candidate's moral character, and his education has been such as are provided in the first and second regulations; that his practice has rendered him useful and respectable; and that the writer attests that he has, in all respects, warranted the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

"VI. Every Candidate for a Medical degree shall, before it shall be granted to him, be required to give an account of his practice to the extent of a year, or of any other part of it, that in his opinion, to his knowledge, is of especial value to medicine and midwifery; and the character and qualification of the candidate at two different meetings to be held at the interval of fourteen days: except in cases of illness, when the same shall be determined by the Faculty."

ERA OF PERSONAL EXAMINATION.¹

Jamaica. Examined by Professors Skene, French, and Davidson, in presence of as many of the other members of the Faculty as can conveniently attend . . . on the different branches of medical science, on his knowledge of the Greek and Latin languages, and on some other branches of literature.

Dec. 2. Alexander Giles Kennedy, L.R.C.S. Ed.

Uttoxeter, Staffordshire.

¹ On 21st January, 1825, a Sub-Committee, appointed by the Medical Committees of King's and Marischal Colleges (supra, p. 66), reported in favour of certain changes in the method followed since 1808 in conferring degrees in Medicine. On 7th March the Marischal College Senatus approved this report, with some slight modifications, and ordered the new regulations to be printed as follows:—

"I. Every Person offering himself as a Candidate for the degree of M.D., shall, first, produce satisfactory evidence of his possessing a good character, and of his having attained the age of twenty-five years; and, adly, shall lay before the Senatus Academicus Certificate of his having obtained the Degree of A.M. in this or some other University, after the usual examinations; of his having attended Courses of Lectures on Anatomy, Surgery, Chemistry, Materia Medica, the Theory and Practice of Physic, and Botany, in this or some other University, or celebrated School, under Professors or Teachers of reputation; and of his having attended, for three or more years, a Medical Hospital, containing the average number of at least eighty Patients.

"II. After the Senatus Academicus shall have been fully satisfied on the above preliminary points, the Applicant shall be received as a Candidate for the Degree of M.D., and shall be required to appear before the Senatus Academicus, during the month of April or October; and in their presence be examined, by the Medical and other Professors, on the different branches of Medical Science,—on his knowledge of the Greek and Latin Languages, and on such other branches of literature as they shall see proper. If fully satisfied with the qualifications of the Candidate, the University shall confer on him the Degree which he merits.

"III. When an applicant for the degree of M.D. has been settled for ten years as a Medical Practitioner, and is still in respectable medical practice in Britain, in the East or West Indies, or other Foreign parts, and is entirely precluded by his situation from presenting himself for examination; in such cases, before he be received as a candidate, there shall be laid before the Senatus Academicus satisfactory evidence of his having been ten years a Medical Practitioner, and of his still continuing to be in respectable medical practice, of his having obtained the Degree of A.M. in some University, after the usual examinations, of his July 31. Richard Carswell.

   Hon. Surgeon, London, "who has greatly distinguished himself by his researches respecting Pathological Anatomy... on the motion of Sir James having attended the above specified courses of lectures,—and either of his having a Surgeon's diploma from the Royal College of Surgeons of London, Edinburgh, Dublin, or Glasgow, or of his having been regularly educated in the Medical School of Aberdeen. After the Senatus Academicus shall have been fully satisfied on these points, such person may be received as a candidate for the degree of M.D., and if he shall then produce attestations from two Physicians who are themselves regular graduates in Medicine, and known either personally or by reputation to the Professor of Medicine, or to some of the Members of the Senatus, bearing on their honour and conscience, that they, from full knowledge, certify the said Candidate to be of irreproachable moral character, respectable and useful in his profession, and, in their judgment, well qualified in every respect to have the highest degree in Medicine conferred on him, the University may in such circumstances bestow on the candidate that degree.

"IV. These regulations are not to be understood as precluding the University from confering Honorary degrees in Medicine on highly distinguished individuals, who cannot be expected to comply with them, and whom it would be improper to subject to them; but in all such cases the degree shall be conferred unsolicited and free of expense.

"[As the requisition respecting the degree of A.M. might prove injurious to some medical students, whose education is now in progress, were it to take effect immediately, it is resolved that it shall not come into force till the year 1830.]"

On 27th April it was unanimously resolved "That the third regulation with respect to the mode of conferring Medical degrees, inserted in the Minute of the 7th March, shall be rescinded, and that in future every candidate for the Degree of M.D. from this University shall be required to appear personally and submit to an examination in presence of the University".

"A mistake," observes Professor Knight, "was soon discovered of a practical kind.
The age of 25 was allowed to remain, whereas it ought obviously to have been altered, so as to agree with that followed by all other Universities of Scotland. This age was also unnecessary, when examination was required. It was still more so, because we required along with it the degree of A.M., which Edinburgh, Glasgow and St. Andrews did not [see King's Coll.
di : Off. and Grad., p. 160]. It proved injurious to our own alumni, who went to graduate at Edinburgh, after taking A.M. at our strict Examinations in Mar. Coll.; about 10 or 12
M.D.'s of Edinburgh 1825-35 were alumni of ours. It was injurious to all who went abroad after ending their medical education, since they could not be expected to return to Aberdeen from situations in distant parts, or to stay in this country till they were 25."

The personal examination cause prevailed very gradually. Dr. William Cullen, feeling the reproach in 1794, drew up a memorial blaming in severe terms the practice of Aberdeen and St. Andrews. The Duke of Buccleuch, to whom Cullen submitted this memorial, gave it to Adam Smith, who, in a long letter, defended the practice, and contended for free trade in degrees in a very pleasant way. (Thomson's Life of Cullen, I., 468-72.)

1 On 21st Jan., 1834, Professor Skene got a committee appointed, consisting of himself, Drs. Macrobin and Clark, to frame new regulations for M.D. After much discussion, and without the consent of King's College, a set of regulations was approved and printed in April, 1838, the age being reduced to 21, but the degree of M.A. being retained.

2 After the quarrel with King's College in 1839 (supra, p. 69), and the dissolution of the Joint Medical School, each University framed new regulations for M.D. For King's Coll., see Off. and Grad., p. 160. On 19th Dec., 1840, the Marischal College Senatus minute "that they have long regarded a high standard of preliminary education as desirable for graduates in medicine . . . that they long entertained the hope that a degree in Arts, or a standard in merit approaching thereto, as recommended by the Royal Commission of Visitation of 1826-30, would ere now have been required in candidates for medical degrees in all the Universities of Scotland; that the University of Old Aberdeen, which at one time required such a standard, has recently receded from it; that the University of St. Andrews has made no approach to the proposed standard; while the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow continue to subject candidates to a preliminary examination in Latin only; and that having had the unanimous opinion of their medical professors and lecturers, that so high a standard of preliminary examination as is desirable cannot, while other Universities do not concur in it, be maintained without serious injury to the medical school of this University—they feel themselves compelled to adopt a lower standard. . . . Also having before them the unanimous recommendation of their medical professors and lecturers in favour of introducing the inferior degree of Bachelor of Medicine, they approve of the same, with the exception of Dr. Cruickshank, who dissent.

The regulations approved and printed in 1840, and in force until 1843, were as follows:

"CURRICULUM.

1. Four years of attendance on Medical Classes, of which one year may be passed at a recognised Medical School; but three, at least, must be passed in a University, including one, at least, in this University. The attendance, in each year, to embrace not fewer than two Medical Classes of six months each; or one of six months, with two of three months each. But it will be held equivalent to one of four years of such attendance in a University, i.e., as a Master of Arts, to have attended one Medical Class while passing through the Curriculum of Arts; or, adly, in any Student, to have attended a Medical Class, in each of two years, along with Classes in the Curriculum of Arts. The University attendance to include the following eight Classes, each for a Course of six months: Anatomy, Practical Anatomy, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Institutes of Medicine, Surgery, Practice of Midwifery, and the following three Classes, each for a Course of three months: Botany, Practical Chemistry, Medical Jurisprudence.

2. Eighteen months of attendance on the Medical and Surgical Practice of an Hospital containing not fewer than Eighty Beds, along with attendance for six months on Lectures on Clinical Medicine, and for three months on Lectures on Clinical Surgery.

3. Six months of Compounding and Dispensing of Medicines in the Laboratory of an Hospital, or of a Public Dispensary, or of a Licensed General Practitioner, or of a regular Dispensing Druggist.

4. It will be held equivalent to the Curriculum prescribed in the three Regulations, above, to have obtained, upon examination, a Diploma or a License, in Medicine or in Botany, from a University or other Authority established by law within the United Kingdom, or to have alternatively attended Medical Classes in this University for one year, at least, from September, 1842, to "during one Winter Session".

"EXAMINATIONS.

5. The Examination Terms to be 20. in each year, the first to commence on the 1st of April, if a Wednesday, but if not, on the first Wednesday thereafter, the second on the 1st of October, if a Wednesday, but if not, on the last Wednesday thereafter.

6. Every Candidate to undergo at least three separate Professional Examinations: the first Examination to be the second Session of the second Term, the second Examination to be in the third Term, and the third Examination to be conducted partly in writing, as well as oral tests, and partly by demonstration of skill in materials.

See list of M.B.'s, infra.

1844, April 27. Elliot Voyle Davies, H.E.I.C.S., South Wales.
[M.R.C.S., 1836.]

"The First to include Chemistry, Botany, Materia Medica, Pharmacy, and the Doctrines of Physics relating to Specific Gravities, to Gases and Vapours, and to Climate.

"The Second to include Anatomy, Institutes of Medicine, Surgery, and the Doctrines of Chemistry and Physics illustrative of Animal Structure and Function.

"The Third to include the Practice of Medicine, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence.

"7.—Every Candidate, not a Master of Arts, must undergo a Preliminary Examination on the Latin Language (the Book to be used being Celsus de Medicina), and on the Etymology of such Terms in the Medical Sciences as are derived from the Latin and the Greek.

"8.—Any Candidate that so desires shall be admitted to each one, or to any two, of his three Professional Examinations, at different Terms; but not to the First Examination, until the beginning of his third year of Medical Classes; nor to the Second, until the end of his third year; nor to the Third, until the end of his fourth year, and until he be twenty-one years of age; nor shall a greater interval than eighteen months be allowed between two successive Professional Examinations, without a full renewal of the previous one or two. The Preliminary Examination must be passed at the same Term as the First Professional Examination.

"9.—In order to be received for Examination, certificates must have been lodged with the Professor of Medicine, on the first day of the month of the Examination Term, shewing that the Candidate is of the required age, that he is of good moral character, and that he has passed through the requisite Course of Professional Education. Along with such Certificates, must be lodged a Schedule, filled up in his own handwriting, containing a list of them, and specifying such additional branches of Education, professional and general, as he may have studied.

"CONFERRING OF DEGREES.

"10.—Medical Degrees to be conferred at the close of each Examination Term.

On 9th Dec., 1848, "in consequence of the number of candidates who have presented themselves at this University for Medical Degrees, since the adoption of the present regulations of 1849, being so small," a committee was appointed "to consider if they can be so modified or altered as to increase the number of Medical Graduates." As the outcome of a Report from this Committee, the Senatus, on 17th March, 1849, adopted a revised set of regulations as under. The more important changes are stated.

"CURRICULUM."

1. Four years of attendance on Medical Classes, of which two years may be passed at a recognised Medical School, but two must be passed in a University, and one of them at least in this University. The attendance, etc. (as in Regs. of 1846). In regard to Practical Anatomy, every candidate must produce a certificate that he has dissected all the parts of the human body.

April 20. James Walker, M.A. [1845], M.B. [1848], Aberdeenshire. [M.R.C.S., 1849; Kincardine O'Neil; Cupar]

"2.—Eighteen months, etc. [as in 1840].
"3.—Six months, etc. [as in 1840].

"EXAMINATIONS.

"4. There shall be one Examination Term in each year, commencing on the second Tuesday of April.

"5.—Every candidate who is not a Master of Arts, nor possessed of a Diploma or a Licence in Medicine or in Surgery from any authority established by Law, within the United Kingdom, shall undergo a Preliminary Examination on the Latin Language (the book to be used being Celsus, 'De Medicina'); on the Etymology of such terms in the Medical Sciences as are derived from the Latin and the Greek; and on the elements of Mental Science (the book to be used being Abercrombie, 'On the Intellectual Powers'). The Preliminary Examination may be undergone at the option of the candidate at any Examination Term after the expiry of the First Session of his attendance on Medical Classes.

"6.—Every candidate shall undergo two separate Professional Examinations; the first on the Theoretical, and the second on the Practical branches of Medical Science, as under:—

"First Examination: Anatomy, Physiology, Botany, Chemistry, Materia Medica.

"Second Examination: Medical Jurisprudence, Midwifery, Surgery, Practice of Medicine.

"Physiology will comprehend the Doctrines of Physics illustrative of Animal Structure and Function.

"7.—Any candidate that so desires shall be admitted to the two Professional Examinations at different terms, viz., to the First Examination at the end of his third year of Medical Classes; and, provided he be twenty-one years of age, to the Second Examination at the end of his fourth year. But no longer interval than two years will be allowed to intervene between the two Examinations without a full renewal of the previous one.

"8.—In order to be received, etc. [practically identical with Reg. 9 of 1840].

"PRACTITIONERS.

"9.—It will be held equivalent, etc. [practically identical with Reg. 4 of 1840]. The Senate reserves to itself the right of exempting Medical Practitioners of experience and high respectability from residence at the University previous to Examination.

"10.—Practitioners who may be exempted from residence shall undergo two separate Professional Examinations, which may be taken at the same or at two different terms; the First Examination to include Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology and Therapeutics; the Second, Practice of Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery, and Medical Jurisprudence. And the competency of their knowledge in these branches will be tested by examination in the following books, viz., Quain's 'Elements of Anatomy,' Carpenter's 'Manual of Physiology,' Williams' 'Principles of Medicine,' Watson's 'Lectures on the Principles and Practice of Physic,' Miller's 'Principles and Practice of Surgery,' Churchill's 'Theory and Practice of Midwifery,' Taylor's 'Manual of Medical Jurisprudence'.

"CONFERRING OF DEGREES.

11. The Degree of Bachelor of Medicine may be conferred on any candidate who has passed the prescribed Examinations.

12. The Degree of Doctor of Medicine may be conferred on any candidate after passing the prescribed Examinations, who is twenty-two years of age, or on any candidate who has been at least twelve months a Bachelor of Medicine of this University.

13. Graduates who have attended the several Medical Classes in this University, will be charged no Graduation Fees: but from all others the usual Fees will be required.

On the 23rd Feb., 1850, Prof. Clark moved, that no candidate be admitted to Examination "without previous residence here as a Medical Student". This proposition was submitted for opinion to the Medical Committee, who reported unfavourably to the change. On 7th Oct., 1850, the Senatus, on the recommendation of a Special Committee, approved certain alterations on the Regulations of 1849, viz.:--

11. [Second clause].—The Senatus reserves to itself the right of exempting Medical Practitioners of experience and good moral character from residence at the University previous to Examination.

11. [Add]. Practitioners may be admitted without residence to Examination for the Degree of M.B., who have held a Diploma or a Licence in Medicine or in Surgery for at least two years, and who produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having been engaged in practice during that period.

12. The Degree of M.D. may be conferred on any candidate after passing the prescribed Examinations, who is twenty-two years of age, or on any candidate who has been at least twelve months a Bachelor of Medicine of this University, after residing there. Practitioners may be admitted, without residence, to Examination for the Degree of M.D. who have held a Diploma or a Licence in Medicine or in Surgery for at least ten years, and who produce satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having been engaged in practice during that period. Practitioners who have held for at least three years the Degree of M.B., obtained without residence, may receive the Degree of M.D. upon producing satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and of having been engaged in practice during possession of the inferior degree."

These rules remained in force until 15th April, 1857, when residence for at least one winter session was again made compulsory on all candidates. Infra, p. 178.

ALUMNI AND GRADUATES IN ARTS.

"Robert Gordon of Straloch, who was the first Master of the liberal arts created in the Marischalls College of Aberdeen [presumably in 1597], and one of the Cheife Barrons of the name of the noble and ancient families of the Gordons in the north part of the Kingdom. He wrote learnedly on the Mathematicks, and drew severall geographical maps of almost all the counties and shires in the Kingdome of Scotland." (Cat. Scot. Writers.) Born 1580. Portrait by Jamesone in Robert Gordon's College, Aberdeen, reproduced in this volume. [Dict. Nat. Biog. Spald. Club Misc., I., 29.]

Another name is preserved in the Town Council Register for 31st July, 1601 (Vol. XL., p. 101), when Mr. James Robertson, student of 1595-99, assigns the arrears of a "pension" of twenty merks granted him by Principal Howie.

Among probable early students of note are Thomas Reid (p. 31) and David Wedderburne (p. 63), who were appointed teachers in the Grammar School, 6th Feb., 1602; Patrick Dun (pp. 10, 28, 32); Patrick Copland, benefactor (Vol. I., p. 160); Thomas Reid's brother, Dr. Alexander (Vol. I., pp. 226-236); Andrew Ramsay (Vol. I., p. 186), professor of divinity, Saumur and Edinburgh, and Latin poet; and Gilbert Jack, professor of philosophy, Leyden (Vorst's Oratio funebris). Arthur Johnston, the poet, born circa 1577 (Musa Lat. Aberd., II., xxvii.), and Rector of King's College, 1637, had probably studied at the sister University; and, notwithstanding the comments of Mr. Bulloch in his George Jamesone, pp. 38-41, there is no proof that the painter attended either college.
ALBUM I. (1605-1681).

Deus nobiscum.¹

Statuta et conditiones quibus fidel obstringunt suam qui Accademiae albo ambiunt inscribi.

1. Praeceptoribus accademiae omnibus et singulis debitam quædiu hic versamur reverentiam, et corum doctrinae et disciplinae tam privatae quam publicae, promptam paratam et voluntarium obedientiam nos et sponte exhibitus et deo dante fideliter promittimus.

2. Arma nulla nec in gymnasio nec in civitatis plateis circumferam, nec cum veteranis studiosis contentionis aut seriae aut jocularis genus insciuntis praepitoribus aut venia a gymnasiarcha non impetrata suscipiam.

3. Fidem accademiae huic datam, alio ante exactum philosophiae curriculum transmigrando, ni secus parentum impellat authoritas scien volensque nullorum male consilio aut hortatu fallam.

4. Legibus denique gymnasi huic et statutis et statuendis pro eisdem pace et disciplina firmanda et servanda et subscribimus et nos volentes subiciamus.

¹ These entries are taken from the original record, which now forms part of Album I. The names, except where otherwise indicated, are autograph. In the MS. no special order is at first traceable in the signatures of each year, but, for convenience of reference, it has been thought desirable to adopt from the outset the alphabetical arrangement under prenames, not under surnames, which afterwards became characteristic of the Marshhal College registers. The first, undated, group of names appears to include entrants of different years prior to 1605, and probably subsequent to 1595, when Gilbert Gray became Principal.

1 From the printed graduation Thesis of 1624, in Aber. Uni. Library. These "Adolescentes Philosophiae," as they are styled on the title, comprise ten small quarto pages "THESE I GRADUAM (61), THESE MORTUAM (65), THESE PRAXIS (79), and THESE PHILOPHIZAM (113). They are prelaced by Greek and Latin verses addressed to the Præsides by his colleague, Professor William Wedderburn, and by a Dedication signed by the Candidates, and addresssed to the Provost, George Nicolson, "praedecto magnifico," and the four Bishops, "omnibus consuetudines.""

3 From the printed Times of 1625 in the Pedebian Library. Dedicated to Provost Paul Menzies, Dr. Wm. Forbes, "rector magnifici," and Wm. Guild, the Times for 1624 have not been traced, and so with many subsequent years, but there can be little doubt that from 1622, when Eduard Rahan began his work in Aberdeen, some, at least of 1542, 1572, hardly a year passed without a print of Marshall Coll. Times appearing from the local press. Unfortunately not a third of those have survived. The Aberdeen University Library possesses only thirteen, 1610, 1641, 1644, 1645, 1660, 1667, 1673, 1705, 1708, 1726, and 1741, while the Pedebian has fourteen, 1625, 1626, 1627, 1629, 1630, 1631, 1632, 1633, 1634, 1635, 1636, 1637, 1638, 1639, 1641, 1642, and 1714. 3 In 1670, for the first time, the names of the students paying chamber maills are recorded, but they are not arranged in classes. See names of magistrants, supra, p. 233. The payment, except where otherwise stated, is £1 10s. Scots.
From the printed Thesis of 1673, Mar. Coll. Charter Chest: a folio broad-sheet printed on satin with illuminated border—probably the copy intended for the Earl. The Dedication, "Georgio Comiti Mariscallo Patrone et Macenas ... Anno 1673." runs as follows:

The "Problemata" appended to Gray's Thesis are:

* An detur vacuum?

* An mundus sit animatus?

¹ This is the opening entry in Album II. All the entries down to 1770 are in the same handwriting. Several of the early lists are obviously copied from the printed Theses (as in 1704, 1708, 1712, 1721, 1726, 1730, 1732—still extant), others, according to Knight, "from names placed on the panels of the window sides of the College Hall. . . . Each regent recorded [in the Theses] his own class in the Magistrand year, adding to the list all the students who had attended any one of the four years." See 1700, p. 275. The graduates are not marked "A.M." till 1742. The letter g appended to a student's name (1698-1749) implies that he came from the Grammar School (see 1692); the numerals i., ii., iii., iv. (1698-1714) imply that he paid chamber maills as a student of the first, second, third, or fourth year respectively.

In the Theses the mark § is prefixed to "Candidati" to distinguish them "ab ipsis qui curriculum philosophicum non sunt penitus emensi". But the Proc. Accts. give Robert Innes as paying the graduation fee of £4 12s., also Alexr. Willsone and John Irvine. "An Irishman" pays £23.

1 This list coincides exactly with that in the printed Theses of 1708 in Aberdeen University Library—praeses, William Smith dedicated to George, Earl Keith, eldest son of William, ninth Lord Marischal. Lord Keith, who was then a boy of fourteen, about to enter College, is addressed by Professor Smith in highly eulogistic terms. "Te ex praenobili ac longissima herouin serie natum, ad maxima destinasse videtur naturae Author, qui te vultu pulcherrimo, corpore vegeto et decoro, animo erecto, et vivaci donavit ingenio. Et tu solicita nobilissimorum parentum cura, in Uteris et nioribus, pietate et virtute, feliciter hucusque enutritus, praeclaros pro aetatis tuae ratione fecisti progressus; tanta indolis suavitate et innata polles prudentia, ut ab auspiciatissimis hisce principiis et coruscantibus virtutum igniculis, omnium spes et vota amplissima splendidae tuae domus incrementa fidenter praesagiant. . . . Familiae Marischallanae haeredem Minervam et Themida cum Marte consociare summopere decet." In the printed Theses italics are used to distinguish, from the "Candidati," those "qui idem stadium philosophicum cum illis ingressi sed curriculum academicum penitus emensi non sunt".

6 See footnote 11 to 1713-15. On 20th Nov., 1717, A. Orem, A. Ross, J. Clerk, J. Paterson, J. Taylor, W. Henderson, and W. Thomson petitioned the Town Council "mentioning that after they all taken of the petitioners' qualifications in the month of November 1715 years, the tyne of the late Rebellion, they were presented to bursaries in the College Marischall of Aberdeen, and continued at the said College until Candlemas thereafter, that their masters the Regents deserted them and left the College; and there being nothing taught in the College since that time, the petitioners applied to your honours and were by your order examined by the present Masters of the said College and found by them sufficiently qualified in Latin and Greek for entering to the Semi class". This they are allowed to do. (T. C. Reg., lviii., 571, 72.)

M. D. Verner. Anno 1721. Inclivi hi ac studiosi Juvenes Scholae Experimentalii non contemnedendum dederunt munus.

1 Among probable entrants of the period 1712-15 are Alexander Irvine, min. of St. Andrews-Lhanbryd, 1726 (Past. Eccl. Scot., iii., 166); George Gordon, min. of Bourtie (P. E. S., iii., 578); John Stewart, min. of Lhanbryd, 1727 (P. E. S., iii., 167); William Johnston, min. of Montquhitter, 1727 (P. E. S., iii., 664); William Guthrie, journalist and historian (Diet. Nat. Biog.).

2 This list, from Album II., coincides with that given in the printed Theses of 1721 (Dissertatio philosophica de passionibus sive affectibus; dedicated to Adam Cockburn, Lord Osmo) in the possession of Mr. Chalmers of Westburn, except that the latter includes a name [Rob. Milne] not found in the former. The use of italics is not explained, but is presumably for the same purpose as in the Theses of former years. (See 1704-08.)

3 In session 1772-73 the records in Album II. became much fuller, the parentage of the students being given. The members of the Class of 1769-73 are entered only as magistrands; those of 1770-74 only as tertians and as magistrands; of 1771-75 only as semis, as tertians and as magistrands; of 1772-76 only as bajans and as magistrands; of 1773-77 only as bajans, as tertians and as magistrands. In the Class of 1774-78 and in all later classes, the records of the bajans, semis, tertians, and magistrands are practically complete. To obviate undue repetition, a student's name is printed only once for any Class, and to it are suffixed the letters b, s, t, m, and A.M., according as the Album shows him to have been a bajan, semi, tertian or magistrand of that Class, or to have graduated. Occasionally a student, entering College with a certain Class, pretermits attendance for a session or more, and reappears as a member of a later Class. The names of the bajans of a Class are printed first in the usual alphabetical order of prenames. Then follow the additional semis, the additional tertians and the additional magistrands, each forming a separate alphabetical arrangement, and having suffixed figures and letters with the usual significance. From 1772 to 1787 the entries in the Album are almost always holograph of the students. (See details in Preface.)

The names of the semis of 1774-75 are not recorded. The Album list of tertians of 1775-76 is imperfect. The entries in brackets [t] are taken from the signatures appended to a letter addressed to Professor Patrick Copland by the members of his first class, which is otherwise of interest as fixing the date when Latin ceased to be used colloquially in the College.

"Hond. Sir,

"Uncertain whether at the coming public examination you propose to examine the students of this class in the Latin language, or to deviate from a custom which we apprehend has not many cogent reasons to support it, we beg leave respectfully to lay before you our sentiments on this subject, hoping you will condescend to consider and (should it appear reasonable) comply with the subsequent request. We beg leave to observe that speaking Latin is not commonly considered as a necessary branch of education; we are, indeed, instructed to read and write that language with propriety; but to speak it, and that fluently, would be a very difficult attainment, a faculty of no material use, and what we may venture to assert very few are possessed of. The public examination, we apprehend, is intended to prove what proficiency we have made in Natural Philosophy, not in the Latin Tongue: would it not then be unjust that by reason of an inferior degree of knowledge in that language, or probably from an accidental want of expression, any one of us should incur the reproach of ignorance and inattention, when possibly that very person may have applied himself most diligently to the subject we have been studying? In fine, that the possibility of this and other disagreeable consequences may be removed, and that this class may not labour under a disadvantage from which every other is now exempt. With due deference to your superior judgment, we make this unanimous request that we may be examined in no other than our native language; and in return for this condescension we hope to evince that the care and attention you have bestowed in instructing us have not been ineffectual."

The "public examination" referred to was not the graduation examination, for some account of which see infra, 1831-35.

9 In the latter half of the eighteenth century the degree examinations had become altogether farcical. They consisted of a series of Latin questions in Logic and Rhetoric, introduced by Dr. Beattie about 1765 or later, when public laureations were discontinued. The same set answered for all years: the Professor of Moral Philosophy dictating copies of both questions and answers to the candidates, hearing them recite by rote the answers, and then hearing them a second time recite the same in presence of the Faculty. This plan, by which no one could possibly be rejected, continued till 1824 . . . The innovation of Dr. Beattie was, doubtless, partly sanctioned by the still older custom of giving assistance to the graduates in their themes and declamations; but it had long ere 1824 become a great nuisance and disgrace. And, as if to sanction such a fraud on the College and the public, the words of the diploma remained unaltered, 'ingenii sui ac eruditionis luculento specimine edito,' which became an obvious untruth " (Knight’s MSS.).

On 7th March, 1825, the Senatus, "being of opinion that some alteration should be made," enjoined each Professor to examine the candidates in the last week of the Session, "at whatever hours he shall find most convenient and in the manner which he himself approves"; on the day of graduation the Professor of Moral Philosophy to examine "in the manner which he approves, on which occasion also the Principal may, if he chooses, put such questions as he shall think fit... Due allowance to be made for the short notice which can now be given to the candidates" (Min.).

"We were glad," says Knight, "to get rid of the abuse of the last 50 years. There were 31 candidates; of whom 5 were rejected for answering not one word. But, to the astonishment of all, Dr. Glennie held his examination, in the old mode, by the old Latin questions: thus tying the living to the dead. For the rejected students pled afterwards that they answered all his questions as well as any others who passed! Three of the five presented a memorial to the Rectorial Court of Hume."

As a natural sequence to the new examinations for M.A. (1821-25, supra), a system of entrance examinations was established. In session 1826-27 these were imposed on all bursars of the 2nd, 3rd or 4th years; in 1827-28 they were made compulsory on all gowned or public students. Students not passing these examinations were allowed to matriculate and attend classes; but were styled private students. Such are indicated by a prefixed italic p.

1 Paper manufr.  2 M.R.C.S., 1842; Praestburgh.  3 Writer, Dundee.
4 "And so, for four years, we wore the red gowns and the red velvet collars which were the compulsory costume of the Students of Arts, till one early spring-day we were ranged ceremoniously in the public hall, some eighteen or twenty of us who had completed the curriculum out of a class originally seventy strong; and there, clad all uncouthly in black silk gowns, which the college beadles had begged, borrowed, or stolen from the city clergy for the occasion, were made to repeat the words of a Latin oath, and, having been dabbed on the head individually by the Principal with a sacred bit of black velvet, were created and admitted Masters of Arts. . . . What a flock of fledgelings were these (the youngest of us exactly sixteen years and four months old) that flew off into the world from that northern nursery of learning, feathered loyally with the fine designation." Professor David Masson in Macmillan’s Magazine for February, 1864.

The identifications of this Class are mainly from a MS. record kept by one of its surviving members, Mr. George Allan.

1 See pp. 31-30. There seems no reason to doubt that a bajan class began studies in Marischal College in the autumn of 1593, the year of its foundation. The buildings of the Gray Friars were ready to accommodate them (vol. i., p. 85), and we find that an Econosius or steward had been appointed on 18th June (supra, p. 33). Doubtless, as in Edinburgh (Dalziel's Hist., vol. ii., pp. 11-19), the Principal conducted the earliest entrants through the four years of their curriculum, the three regents being added in 1594, 1595 and 1596 respectively, as the advent of new classes made the need for them felt. The names of these early regents have not been preserved, and, indeed, prior to 1678, when the Register of Preparations begins, it is impossible to assign with absolute certainty the classes to the various teachers. Down to about 1641 (vol. i., p. 64; cf. Off. and Grad. of King's Coll., p. 315), the four regents (till 1680 the three regents and Principal) were Professors of Greek, Logic, Moral Philosophy and Natural Philosophy, and did not "circulate".
